The Chain of Command

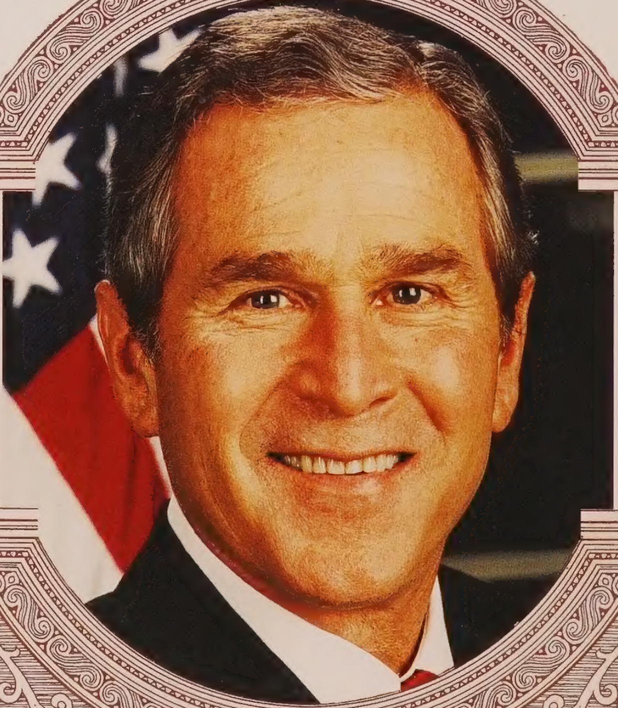
Honorable George W. Bush

George W. Bush is the 43rd President of the United States. Formerly the 46th Governor of the State of Texas, President Bush has earned a reputation as a compassionate conservative who shapes policy based on the principles of limited government, personal responsibility, strong families, and local control.

President Bush was born July 6, 1946 and grew up in Midland and Houston, Texas. He received a bachelor's degree from Yale University and a Master of Business Administration from Harvard Business School. He served as an F-102 pilot for the Texas Air National Guard before beginning his career in the oil and gas business in Midland in 1975, working in the energy and power industry until 1986. After working on his father's successful 1988 presidential campaign, he assembled the group of partners that purchased the Texas Rangers baseball franchise in 1989.



Commander-in-Chief

Honorable Donald Rumsfeld

Donald Rumsfeld was born in 1932 in Chicago, Illinois, attended Princeton University on scholarship, served in the U.S. Navy (1954-57) as an aviator, and was All Navy Wrestling Champion.

In 1962, at the age of 30, he was elected to his first of four terms in the U.S. Congress. In 1969, he resigned from Congress to join the President's Cabinet. He served as Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity and Assistant to the President, and later as Director of the Economic Stabilization Program and Counselor to the President. In January 1973 he was posted to Brussels, Belgium, as U.S. Ambassador to North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). He served as Chief of Staff of the White House and as a member of the President's Cabinet, 1974-75, and the 13th Secretary of Defense, 1975-1977. Married in 1954, he and his wife, Joyce, have three children and five grandchildren.

Secretary of Defense

Honorable Gordon R. England

Mr. England was nominated on 24 April 2001 by President George W. Bush to serve as 72nd Secretary of Navy, and was sworn in on 24 May 2001.

A native of Baltimore he graduated from the University of Maryland in 1961 with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering and a master's degree in Business Administration from the M. J. Neeley School of Business at Texas Christian University.

He has served as executive vice president of General Dynamics Corporation and was responsible for three major sectors of the corporation: Information Systems, International, and Combat Systems Group. He also served as president of General Dynamics Fort Worth aircraft company, president of General Dynamics Land Systems company, and as the principal of a mergers and acquisition consulting company.

Secretary of the Navy

General Richard B. Meyers, USAF

General Richard Myers is the 15th Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. He is a 1965 graduate of Kansas State University, and entered the Air Force in 1965 through the Reserve Officer Training Corps. He has served in many capacities as both a pilot and administrator. He is a command pilot with more than 4,100 flying hours in the T-33, C-37, C-21, F-4, F-15 and F-16.

From 1998 to 2000, General Myers was Commander in Chief, North American Aerospace Defense Command and U.S. Space Command; Commander, Air Force Space Command; and Department of Defense manager, space transportation system contingency support. He has also served as Commander, Pacific Air Forces, Hawaii; Assistant to the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and as Commander of U.S. Forces Japan and 5th Air Force at Yokota Air Base, Japan.

Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff

Admiral Vern Clark, USN

The Chief of Naval Operations (CNO) is the senior military officer in the Navy. He is responsible to the Secretary of the Navy for all aspects of the navy. The CNO is the principle naval advisor to the President and to the Secretary of the Navy on the conduct of war. He is the principle advisor to the Secretary on the conduct of naval activities of the Department of the Navy

Admiral Vern Clark was born in Sioux City, Iowa and raised in Nebraska, Missouri, and Illinois. He graduated from Evangel College where he earned a Master's Degree of Business. He graduated from Officer Candidate School and received his commission in August of 1968. He became the 27th Chief of Naval Operations on 21 July 2000.

Admiral Clark's personal decorations include the Defense Distinguished Service Medal (three awards), the Distinguished Service Medal (two awards), the legion of Merit (three awards), the Defense Meritorious Service Medal, the meritorious Service Medal (four awards), the Navy Commendation Medal, and various service and campaign medals.

Chief of Naval Operations

General James Jones, USMC

The Commandant of the Marine Corps is the senior military officer in the Marine Corps. He is responsible to the Secretary of the Navy for the command, utilization of resources and operating efficiency of the Marine Corps.

General Jones was born in Kansas City, Missouri. He spent his formative years in France and returned to the United States to attend Georgetown University School of Foreign Service. He graduated with a Bachelor of Science in 1966. He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in January of 1967. Upon completion of The Basic School, Quantico, Virginia, in October 1967, he was ordered to the Republic of Vietnam. He was sworn in as the 32nd Commandant of the Marine Corps on 1 July 1999.

General Jones' personal decorations include: the Defense Distinguished Service Medal, Silver Star Medal, Legion of Merit with four gold stars, Bronze Star Medal with Combat "V", and the Combat Action Ribbon.

Commandant of the Marine Corps

Vice Admiral John R. Ryan, USN

Vice Admiral John R. Ryan assumed duties as the 56th Superintendent of the United States Naval Academy on 4 June 1998. A native of Mountainhome, Pennsylvania, he graduated from the Naval Academy in June of 1967. He received a Master of Science Degree in Administration from George Washington University in 1975. He also has completed the Program for Senior Executives in National and International Security at the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University.

Vice Admiral Ryan's most recent assignment was as Commander, Maritime Surveillance and Reconnaissance Force, U.S. Sixth Fleet /Commander, Fleet Air Mediterranean/Commander, Maritime Air Forces, Mediterranean from 1995 to 1998. His awards include the Navy Distinguished Service Medal and theDefense Superior Service Medal with oak leaf cluster.

Superintendent, US Naval Academy

R. Admiral Samuel J. Locklear, III, USN

Rear Admiral Locklear became the 78th Commandant of Midshipmen on December 20, 1999. He graduated from the US Naval Academy in 1977 with a degree in Operations Analysis, and has received a Masters degree in Public Administration from George Washington University.

Upon commissioning, he served on USS William V. Pratt as main propulsion assistant and missile fire control officer. He was then selected for training in the nuclear propulsion program, and served as electrical principal assistant on USS Carl Vinson. More recently, Rear Admiral Locklear served as Commander, Destroyer Squadron TWO, deploying with the USS Eisenhower Battle Group.

His decorations include the Defense Superior Service Medal, Legion of Merit with Gold Star, and the Navy Meritorious Service Medal with three gold stars.

Commandant of Midshipmen

Colonel John R. Allen, USMC

Colonel John Allen is the 79th Commandant of Midshipmen and a 1976 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy. He was assigned to Second Battalion, 8th Marines and then at Marine Barracks 8th and I, Washington D.C. as a ceremonial officer.

In 1985 he took command of two infantry companies and served as the operations officer of Third Battalion, 4th Marines. He returned to the Naval Academy in 1988 to teach in the Political Science Department.

Colonel Allen reported to The Basic School as the Director of the Infantry Officer Course from 1990-1992 and subsequently assumed command of Second Battalion, 6th Marines. He then assumed command of The Basic School in 1999.

The goal of the character development division is to integrate the moral, ethical, and character development of midshipmen across every aspect of the Naval Academy experience. The integrated character development program is the single most important feature that distinguishes the Naval Academy from other educational institutions and officer commissioning sources.

Character Development

CAPT Kevin Sinnett, USN
Department Director

The Physical Education Department is tasked with accomplishing one third of the mission of the Naval Academy, to prepare midshipmen physically to become professional Navy and Marine Corps officers. This mission is accomplished through a thorough and rigorous course of instruction in the fundamentals of swimming, personal defense, lifetime fitness and recreational sports, and through the regular administration of the Physical Readiness Test. Midshipmen must meet physical education requirements during their four years at the Naval Academy in order to graduate.

Nimitz Library

The Nimitz Library, completed in 1973, is named in honor of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, USN (1885-1966). A 1905 graduate of the United States Naval Academy, Admiral Nimitz served as Commander-in-Chief, Pacific, during World War II.

The Nimitz Library offers comprehensive library services to midshipmen and faculty. Service is also provided to USNA military and civilian staff, to personnel attached to the other activities of the Annapolis Area Naval Complex, and to local retired faculty members and retired military personnel. Other residents of the Annapolis community and authorized researchers may make use of the Library's resources under specific circumstances.

Division of Engineering & Weapons

CAPT Rick Rubel, USN
Division Director

The Division of Engineering and Weapons is similar in organization to a College of Engineering in a civilian university. A Director, historically a Navy Captain, has charge of five academic departments. The Division is primarily housed in Rickover Hall, completed in 1974 and dedicated by Admiral Hyman G. Rickover, regarded as the father of our modern nuclear Navy. The Division is supported by an array of sophisticated laboratory facilities, with state of the art equipment not available in many undergraduate or even graduate academic institutions.

In addition to supporting the education of midshipmen, the laboratories are also used to support ongoing faculty research. This research enables the faculty to stay current in their fields, and often provides an opportunity for some of the more advanced students to assist faculty members (analogous to graduate assistants in civilian universities).

Midshipmen in the Engineering and Weapons Division can pursue eight engineering majors in a total of seventeen concentration tracks.

Aerospace Engineering

The Aerospace Engineering Department offers one of the most exciting and challenging academic programs at the Naval Academy. The program is structured to produce naval officers who will meet the challenges of serving in such areas as naval aviation, naval research, and the Naval Space Command.

The Aerospace Department offers two specific tracks of study in Aeronautics and Astronautics. Before the students endure the rigors of their track courses, they are immersed in "core curriculum" courses which establish a firm understanding in the fundamentals of engineering. After their first year, the students pursue their respective track academics. Those students who select aeronautics will study topics such as aerodynamics, structures, propulsion, and flight vehicle performance. Students in the astronautics track will focus their studies on such topics as the space environment, astrodynamics, spacecraft systems, and spacecraft attitude dynamics and control. Both tracks conclude with a design course which allows midshipmen to apply their engineering knowledge to the design of an aero or space flight vehicle.

Skills gained are demonstrated when the graduates are faced with everyday technical problems in areas such as flight testing, aircraft and space vehicle design, propulsion tailoring and weapons systems integration.

Electrical Engineering

Electrical Engineering is one of the seven engineering majors at the U.S. Naval Academy that is accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (ABET).

Electrical Engineering is a cornerstone discipline that will shape the Navy and Marine Corps well into the future. The major offers a solid grounding in the fundamental concepts of Electrical Engineering with a opportunities to specialize in Digital Computer Systems, Communications Systems, Microwave Systems, and Solid State Design. The Navy needs engineers educated in these concepts to lead the development of the Integrated Electric Drive System for ships and microelectronics; the foundation of all future electronic systems.

EE students actively pursue application of classroom concepts in the laboratory. The department has extensive laboratories in fiber optics, microwave theory with radar applications, design and development of solid-state devices (transistors), digital and analog communications, integration of digital hardware and software, electro-mechanical energy conversion and electrical engineering design. The electrical engineering department is constantly updating all laboratories with leading edge technology.

Cameron, USN, LCDR Dan Johnston, USN, Prof Richard Martin, CDR Jeffrey Link, USN.

Mechanical Engineering

The mission of the Mechanical Engineering Department is to educate young men and women in the broad fundamentals of this discipline, while preparing them to assume responsibilities in any of the warfare specialties of the U.S. Navy and Marine Corps. Immediate graduates will assume positions of responsibility involving the operation and maintenance of high technology weapons systems and platforms. As these officers progress though their careers, many will assume positions of responsibility as managers of weapons systems development and procurement. The facts dictate a program that emphasizes a broad spectrum of undergraduate studies. The program thus includes study in solid and fluid mechanics, dynamics, thermodynamics and energy systems, materials engineering and a significant emphasis on electrical engineering and control systems fundamentals.

The program takes seriously the need to develop in its graduates a sound understanding of the design process and its importance in the success of engineering activity through a series of four sequential courses, considered the design backbone, beginning in the first semester of the junior year, and ending with a captsone design course in the final semester. Other courses which are primarily oriented towards the analysis of engineering science, provide direct support to the design backbone.

Naval Architecture & Ocean Engineering

Tomorrow's Navy must operate on, below, and just above the surface of the sea utilizing a variety of ships, submarines, deep submergence vehicles and diving equipment while performing a multitude of missions in defense, research, exploration and exploitation of earth's last frontier - its oceans. The essential ingredient to the success of all these missions is Man. To develop naval officers capable of performing effectively in this complex environment is the goal of the Naval Architecture and Ocean Engineering Department (NA&OE).

In endeavoring to prepare officers to meet the Navy's present and future needs, the Department offers ABET accredited degrees in Naval Architecture and Ocean Engineering - each an interdisciplinary field involving the application of engineering principles relating to the ocean environment. These marine-oriented programs of study are supported by the latest in facilities at the Academy, and are taught by an experienced staff of dedicated professional faculty. All these studies have direct carry over to careers in the Naval Service. The knowledge of basic engineering principles, their practical application and the research and design insights provided through these majors offer a well-balanced preparation for the ready assimilation of young officers into the fleet as well as a basis for post-graduate studies.

Weapons & Systems Engineering

The Systems Engineering major is one of the seven engineering majors at the U. S. Naval Academy that is accredited by the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology. The Systems Engineering major at the Naval Academy has been rated number one in the nation for over fifteen consecutive years by the Gorman Report.

Systems Engineering is an interdisciplinary major whose primary objective is to provide an overall understanding of the analysis and design of complete engineering systems. This is accomplished through the study of such topics as electronics, fluidics, hydraulics, mechanics and computer engineering. The emphasis is on the mathematical modeling, analysis, synthesis and control of such systems and on their simulation using the department's extensive computing facilities.

This integrated approach means that the Systems Engineer is exceptionally well prepared to operate, maintain and troubleshoot sophisticated systems in both military and civilian environments. No matter what the system is (fire control, transportation, social-economic), the performance optimization that is so crucial to success will be increasingly due to the efforts of Systems Engineers.

For naval officers, the Systems Engineering major is of significant value to the professional whose career will be continually involved with the operation and maintenance of sophisticated, integrated systems.

Division of Mathematics & Science

CAPT W.C. Ostendorff, USN
Division Director

The Division of Mathematics & Science provides foundational knowledge in Mathematics and Science for aspiring naval officers. The core courses of mathematics, Chemistry, and Physics are taught to all midshipmen to aid in their understanding of the universal scientific principles basic to modern technology and to enable them to succeed in any of the Academy's technical majors. The Division also provides the full educational value of majors for those midshipmen who choose to specialize in the fields of Chemistry, Computer Science, General Science, Mathematics, Oceanography, Physics, or Quantitative Economics.

Chemistry

The Chemistry major at the Naval Academy provides midshipmen with training in all of the discipline's traditional fields, leading to a bachelor of Science degree certified by the American Chemical Society.

The Chemistry Department at the Naval Academy has one of the finest undergraduate chemistry laboratories in the nation. Skilled technicians maintain the laboratories, assist the faculty and help midshipmen solve practical problems in the labs.

Faculty have a wealth of experience, not only in their academic understanding of chemistry but also in the practical application of chemistry in the Navy and Marine Corps. Chemistry majors will find that their civilian and military instructors can make the study of chemistry a highlight of their learning experience at the Naval Academy.

Computer Science

In the rapidly changing field of computer technology, the nationally accredited USNA Computer Science Department is dedicated to remaining on the leading edge. The computer science major is a dynamic and vital component of the Naval Academy's academic program. The computer science major equips junior officers with the skills necessary to serve in today's hi-tech naval forces while shaping the naval forces of tomorrow.

The Computer Science Department is accredited by the Computing Accreditation Commision of ABET and offers a major in Computer Science leading to a Bachelor of Science degree. The department has approximately 200 majors and a faculty of 15. Faculty and students have access to outstanding office and lab facilities including networked PCs and Suns.

The department's mission is to serve the Navy and Marine Corps through excellence in Computer Science education and research. It strives to provide a strong, dynamic, nationally recognized and accredited Computer Science program providing state of the art education and research opportunities focused on computer science concepts and technologies critical to the Naval services in the 21st century.

Mathematics

The Mathematics Department has offered a B.S. degree in Mathematics since the 1960's. Currently there are about sixty faculty member, both civilian and military. All civilians have Ph. D.'s, and are engaged in scholarly activities, such as preparing materials that support classroom presentations, writing for technical journals, providing professional services, and working on projects sponsored by government agencies. Elective offerings in mathematics include a wide range of theoretical and applied courses. The mathematics major allows concentration in "pure" mathematics, operations analysis or scientific computing. For selected students an "honors" program is available and the opportunity to conduct independent research with a faculty advisor. The Mathematics department is aggressively responsive to the fine diverse backgrounds of midshipmen and the new educational ideas sweeping the mathematical community. It strongly supports methods of instruction based on small classroom sections and encourages the use of modern technology. Without losing sight of the importance of factual knowledge and analytical skills, the department seeks to prepare graduates for a vital naval career by providing an educational experience that arouses intellectual curiosity and develops critical thinking.

Oceanography

An interdisciplinary science major, oceanography involves the study of meteorology, geophysics, physics, chemistry, biology and geology as they relate to the ocean environment. Advanced courses are propagation in the ocean, the study of waves and tides, and the use of satellites in oceanography. Other courses include biological oceanography, synoptic meteorology, and advanced mathematics.

Our civilian and military faculty members have backgrounds in disciplines ranging from dynamic meteorology to marine biology, geology and oceanography. Their research is at the forefront of modern science, applying the most recent technological advances in satellites and computational technology. Our military faculty bring fleet experiences into the classroom.

Whether in ships, submarines, aircraft, infantry or armor, Navy and Marine Corps officers who understand the Meteorology and Oceanography (METOC) environment can optimize the performance of people, equipment, and weapons systems. For reasons of safety, tactics, and economy, ships and aircraft must have rapid and accurate weather information and officers who know how to apply that information.

Physics

The major program in physics presents fundamental physical concepts and principles in such a way as to emphasize their general usefulness and lays a strong foundation for further work in a broad range of technical fields. The challenge of physics lies in uniting its laws and definitions, expressed through algebra, trigonometry and calculus, with the integrative reasoning so essential in solving new problems. A bachelor of science degree is awarded.

Some of the topics treated in the sequence of courses are the origin, propagation and reception of waves of all kinds; field concepts; theory of relativity; basic theory of quantum mechanics; and statistical mechanics. All are studied with the object of developing an open-minded and creative approach to the physical world -- an approach increasingly important to those who will be leaders in the modern Navy. The physics major is particularly suitable for those midshipmen entering the nuclear power program, but many recent physics majors have opted for Navy air, surface line and Marine Corps as well. Advanced degrees are available to qualified physics majors prior to graduation, immediately after graduation and later in their careers.

Division of Humanities & Social Sciences

Col. Robert Blose, Jr., USMC
Division Director

The programs of the Division of Humanities and Social Sciences introduce midshipmen to the study of human behavior in all its varied manifestations. Each discipline examines humankind through a different lens while emphasizing critical thinking, the careful collection and analysis of evidence, and the importance of clear oral and written expression.

Midshipmen majoring in the Humanities and Social Sciences earn a Bachelor of Science degree by completing course requirements and pursuing advanced electives within their discipline. Students also take a wide range of leadership and professional courses in combination with a core engineering curriculum. Our graduates combine highly refined independent thinking and analysis skills with a foundation in math and engineering that sets them apart from their peers. Upon their commissioning, our students are academically and professionally prepared to pursue a career path in any branch of the Navy or Marine Corps.

Economics

The Economics Department helps prepare the Naval Officer in the most fundamental lessons of resource scarcity relative to potential uses... Thinking Economically. The Economics program provides understanding of the economic institutions and economic systems each officer is pledged to defend. The department also seeks to provide knowledge of world resource endowments, industrial patterns, trade flows, and the nature and the interdependency of the world's diverse economic systems in order to provide a useful background in dealing with the citizens and representatives of other countries that U.S. officers will inevitably encounter. The department also seeks to provide a major that also provides a strong set of mid-career skills, in particular, for the midshipman who may attend service schools such as the Naval War College, staff billet assignments, postgraduate training in management, national security, and intelligence, and future subspecialty designations in management and politico-military or strategic planning.

English

The English Department offers a wide array of courses: midshipmen study everything from Homer to Hamlet, from Marlowe to Morrison, from Dickens to Dickinson. The English Department has a mix of 23 civilians and eleven officers currently teaching. One hundred seventy-seven majors in the department will graduate with a Bachelor of Science degree. The department offers an honors major as well as opportunities for independent study or graduate study at local universities.

Every year, all members of the Plebe class spend two semesters in introductory English courses, working on both the writing and reading skills that will be vital as future officers. Prose, diction, and structure are concentrated on in writing assignments, while midshipmen get an opportunity to form arguments in papers and during discussions about selected readings.

History

The History Department offers a wide variety of courses in many different areas of American, European, and world history. Each year approximately 90 midshipmen graduate from the Naval Academy with a B.S. degree in History. In addition to the standard major, there is a special honors major in which selected students may participate. One or two students each year are also selected for the Trident Scholar program and the Voluntary Graduate Education Program.

The department sponsors several awards anually, including the Horace Porter and Merrill Bartlett Prizes. The History Department also sponsors the Rhodes, Marshall, and Fitzgerald Scholarship programs at the Naval Academy. Recipients of these prestigious awards are funded to continue their studies at leading universities in the U.S. and Europe. Every year, in addition, qualifying midshipmen are inducted into Phi Alpha Theta, the national History honor society.

The faculty of the History Department includes specialists in may areas of history. There area total of 45 faculty members, including 28 civilian and 17 military officers.

Language Studies

The Language Studies Department offers courses through the fourth-year college level in Mandarin Chinese, French, German, Japanese, Russian, Spanish.

First- and second-year courses help midshipmen acquire proficiency in listening, speaking, reading and writing the language of their choice. Third-year courses continue building language proficiency while introducing midshipmen to the culture and literature of the language area. Fourth-year courses presuppose linguistic competence and concentrate on more specialized topics in the history, contemporary society, and literature of the countries where the language is spoken. At all levels, classes are conducted and written work is done in the target language. Acquisition of language and culture is supported extensively by technologies like video and computer-based multimedia wherever appropriate.

Thanks to a major bequest from Capt. Marshall H. Cox, USN (ret.) and other funding sources, midshipmen who have demonstrated outstanding promise in foreign language courses have unparalleled opportunities to study languages in the countries where they are spoken. Each year about 100 midshipmen study abroad under the Cox Program at minimal cost to the individual student.

Political Science

The Political Science department offers the full range of political science courses plus a number of uncommon offerings such as Low Intensity Conflict, Civil-Military Relations and Intelligence and National Security. The department offers a full range of couses on American political institutions and processes and those focusing on international relations and comparative government. The normal faculty complement includes civilian professors and military officers. The civilian professors comprise the permanent faculty, providing stability and academic expertise to the program and maintain an extensive record of publication, professional society involvement and consulting. Military officers come to the department after receiving their Master's degreee and generally teach for three years within the area of their expertise. "Permanent Military Professors" have been introduced into the faculty, combining the best of the academic and professional worlds. the department also sponsors a number of extracurricular activities such as an active Model United Nations Club (MUN), the Naval Academy Foreign Affairs Conference (NAFAC) and a chapter of the National Political Science honor society, Pi Sigma Alpha.

Division of Professional Development

CAPT Red Smith, USN

Division Director

The Division of Professional Development prepares midshipmen to be professional officers in the Naval and Marine Corps services. The courses offered by our academic departments -- Leadership, Ethics, & Law, and Seamanship & Navigation -- develop skills in the classroom environment.

The Department of Professional Programs provides the opportunity for Midshipmen to move out of the classroom and experience life at sea with operational fleets.

The staff and faculty of ProDev is comprised of both military and civilian instructors providing a diversified learning environment for the Midshipmen.

Seamanship & Navigation

The Seamanship and Navigation Department is the largest department within the Division of Professional Development. The Depatment's curriculum provides a foundation in basic marine engineering, seamanship, ship handling, ship operations, and tactics. The core curriculum spans the midshipmen's entire four years at the Naval Academy and is designed to provide midshipmen with a broad base of knowledge, enhanced by practical summer training.

The department is manned by Surface Warfare Officers that have come from operational tours and bring direct fleet experience to the Naval Academy to share with midshipmen.

SEANAV is also responsible for all Academy-related employment of the Yard Patrol Craft stationed at Naval Station Annapolis. These YP's are used extensively in the core courses and provide an excellent means for practical hands-on experience. The YP's are also used during Atlantic Professional Afloat Training for Midshipmen (LANTPATRAMID), the summer training program sponsored by Seamanship and Navigation during a third class midshipman's summer training.

Leadership, Ethics & Law

The Depatment of Leadership, Ethics, and Law (LEL) helps to mold midshipmen into future Naval and Marine Corps Officers. Courses offered include Leadership and Human Behavior, Leadeship Theory and Application, Naval Law, Moral Reasoning for Naval Leaders, and Psychology. The department aims to provide graduates with the ethical and behavioral foundations that our nation's military demands in its leaders. Through discussion, debate, and analytical thinking, midshipmen are able to confront both theorectical and real world scenarios that they may encounter while serving as officers in the naval Service. By confronting what past and present officers have done in "tough" situations, midshipmen gain valuable insight into what they might do when confronted with similar situations. Midshipmen will later build on the leadership and moral foundations that were gained in the LEL department as gradutes in the naval service.

Professional Programs

The Department of Professional Programs performs three primary functions: administration of the summer training programs, assignment of graduating midshipmen to Navy and Marine Corps communities, and management of Technical Programs in Luce Hall. This includes providing technical support for the Luce Hall Local Area Network (Novell and Windows NT), Fleet Command warfare simulators, Luce Hall Planetarium and the electronic classrooms in Luce Hall.

Summer training for midshipmen takes them all around the world, to Navy and Marine Corps installations, ships and submarines in oceans and ports from San Diego to the western Pacific, from Norfolk to the Mediterranian, and special schools both in the United States and overseas. The Department of Professional Programs ensures that each midshipman has valuable opportunity to gain fleet experience before graduating from the Naval Academy. Graduates rely on the department for their first assignment as Navy and Marine Corps Officers.

The Year

2002

SUMMER

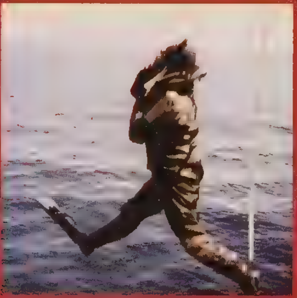
Firstie Summer Cruise

May ~ August

LEON N D KRAFT
DIRTY

Firstie cruise was the final fleet experience for the men and women of 2002. In less than a year they would assume their role in the fleet as commissioned officers.

Stationed around the world they experienced life through the eyes of a junior officer. It was also a chance to decide upon potential career choices before final service selection. Graduation seemed that much closer everyday.



Second Class Summer Cruise

May ~ August

Summer was the opportunity for the majority of the class of 2003 to experience life in the fleet. Fresh from youngster year, they eagerly looked forward to learning first hand from the enlisted men and women. Assigned to various commands, they traveled around the world, absorbing new sights and sounds of foreign ports and exotic locations. Additionally, during Protramid, they spent their weeks divided between the Marine Corp, Naval aviation, and submarines.

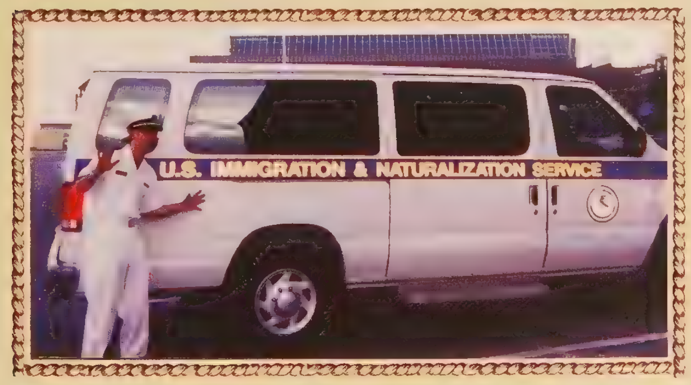
All too soon summer ended and they found themselves back on the yard. Reform passed and Two for Seven was just around the corner. With the new year came new positions and opportunities. As a class they stepped up to the challenge, bringing with them a new foundation of experience learned from life in the fleet.

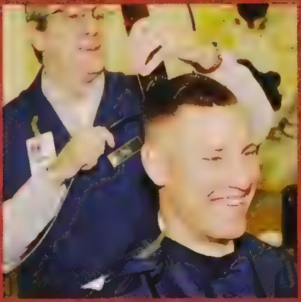
Youngster Summer Cruise

May ~ August

Youngster cruise was a welcome relief from the rigors of plebe year. While the new third class did not have the opportunity to visit exotic locations, they did have the chance to experience life aboard a YP. On board the YP's they traveled along the east coast, spending port calls in Boston and New York City.

The remainder of the summer was spent sailing with CSTS or training in manuever warfare with NTT. Undoubtably, the highlight of youngster cruise, was sighting the chapel dome on return from YP's, and finally becoming 3/C.





Induction Day
Class of 2005

29 June 2001

The new Class of 2005 stood outside Alumni Hall, attempting to enjoy their last moments of civilian life. This group of new plebes waited anxiously as they said goodbye to their former lives. In a few hours they would shed the last vestiges of civilian life as they embarked on a new and greater adventure. From across the United States and the world, these individuals came with a sense of purpose and desire that would unite them as a class. They said goodbye to family and friends, ready to embrace the duty set before them. With right hands raised, the proud plebes swore the Midshipman's Oath, taking their first step towards a journey of committment.

Plebe Summer
Class of 2005

July ~ August

The first few days of Plebe summer were a chaotic glimpse into life as a fourth class midshipman. Drill, PEP, and unfamiliar military order seemed overwhelming. It soon became apparent that to survive Plebe summer, teamwork was essential. The newly inducted plebes faced the challenges, forging through the obstacles as a class. Each day seemed to last an eternity, but by the end of the summer they had learned what it meant to be a midshipman.

Plebe Parents Weekend

10 - 12 August 2001

The days dragged and morning PEP always came too soon. The weeks ticked away and the training trudged onward. With happy hearts the Class of 2005 welcomed Plebe Parents Weekend and the chance to leave the yard after the hardships of summer. The end was in sight and the long hot days of Plebe summer were drawing to an end. Reform was just around the corner, but for now all that mattered was the chance to see family and friends after six long weeks. The parents had left their sons and daughters as uncertain civillians. They were now greeted by confident young men and women with a united sense of purpose.

FALL

Firstie Parents' Weekend

8-9 September 2001

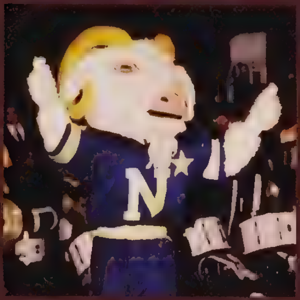
Welcome Parents
of the Class of

Firstie Parents Weekend gave the firsties a chance to show their parents how far they'd come in four years. They took their parents to Friday classes and King Hall, marched in a parade, sat together at the football game, and met up with other friends and families. This was the first time when the firstie parents could truly see junior officers in their sons and daughters.

Formal Parades

September ~ November

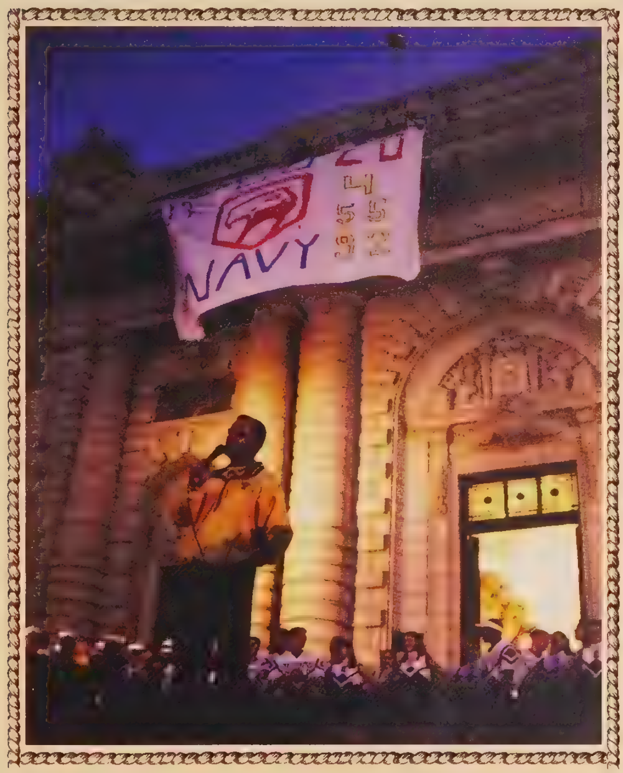
It was the chance to honor those who came before us and impress the spectators with our military drill. With precision and poise we marched in step, rendering honors to the reviewing party. In the sunlight our bayonets glistened as our arms swung in rhythm. The band played, the cannons roared, and the Brigade marched onward.



Pep Rallies

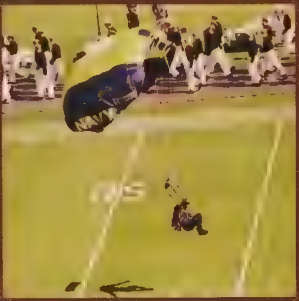
September ~ November

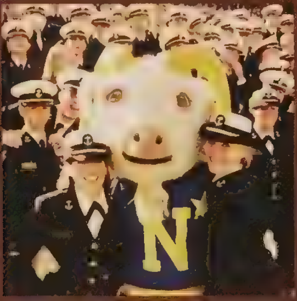
Organized or spontaneous, pep rallies were always a chance to celebrate Navy spirit. Crowds of midshipmen in blue and gold jogging suits poured into Tecumseh Court to cheer on the fall sports teams. For an hour we were able to relax with friends, listen to music, and eat in a picnic atmosphere. The cheerleaders entertained us while the team captains promised us victory. Ever confident, plebes made courageous bets with their upperclass, willing to do just about anything for extra priviliges. With the passing months the pep rallies became more spirited as the Army/Navy Game drew closer.



Football Games

September ~ December





With courage and a warrior spirit, the Navy football team battled on the field. Those sunny fall days were a chance to mingle with friends while cheering on our players. Though faced with difficult odds, they fought valiantly, striving to perform their best against any adversary. Each game played was a chance to hone the skills for the main event- The Army/Navy game.

Tailgaters

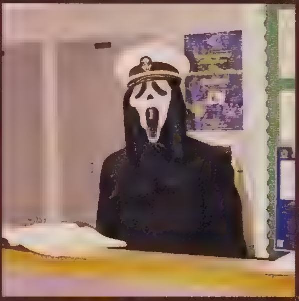
September ~ November

Tailgaters are what make Navy football games an all-day affair. From early in the morning, through march-over, to late in the evening, people barbeque and celebrate. Companies, Parent clubs, the Right Spirit, ECAs, teams, families, grads, and friends set up activities, food and drink to celebrate Navy football and a little time off. Despite a hard season, there was a party at every corner of the parking lot on every football Saturday. To avoid Annapolis traffic, mids would throw a football, listen to a band play, barbeque, and just relax.

Fall Events

September ~ November

The fall season normally finds us caught in the middle of home work, parades, sports practices, and duty. Yet, fall also brings with it home football games, tail gaters, concerts, plays, and socials. Midshipmen actors and actresses entertained us with the fall play, The Torchbearers. There were also notable appearances by modern rock and country stars such as Toby Keith in Alumni Hall.



Halloween

31 October 2001

Halloween was the chance for the Brigade to trade in their blues for something quite different. Ghosts, goblins, and even stranger sights roamed the hall that night. Plebes scurried to find candy or barricaded themselves from the marauding upperclass "trick or treaters."

Army Navy Game

1 December 2001

This year's Army/Navy Game was a momentous occasion. With the events of September eleventh still fresh on our minds, the nation watched the two rival services unite on the playing field. From around the world, soldiers and sailors watched along with the patriotic families back home. President Bush and a greatful nation cheered on both teams as they battled under a clear sky. Although denied a victory over Army this year, we were still proud of our team and the courage they displayed. The undefeatable Navy spirit will endure, ready to face the challenges on both the sporting field and the field of battle.

The Dark Ages

January - March

Without much snow this year, the winter almost seemed drearier. The snow fell while we were gone on Christmas leave. It fell again one weekend in January. And that was all. The rain and fog took its place. But, nothing would keep the winter from seeming longer than the countdown to spring break. Until then, we busied ourselves with Varsity basketball games in blue and gold jogging suits, ski trips on the weekends, sports, plenty of DVDs, and for some, a little bit of homework. Time at sponsors' houses over the weekends were of eternal importance to a lot of us. Those who lived close could be counted on to bring company-mates and friends home. Of course once back in the halls of Bancroft, mids were sure to be playing an indoor game of hockey, lacrosse, or maybe frisbee. For the firsties, this was the last of four long darkages - next year they would be all over the world and perhaps enjoying the sun instead of rain, sleet, or snow for winter.

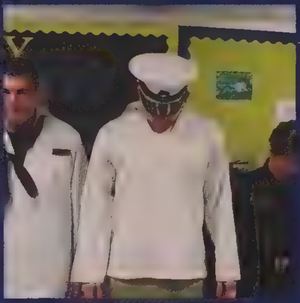
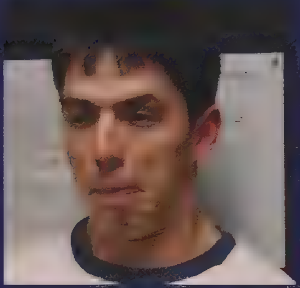
The Class of 2002's service assignment had finally come and each of them were eager to see how luck could be in their favor after so much hard work. After three years worth of grades, three summers of professional training, an extensive precommissioning physical, and a thorough service selection interview, there was nothing more the firsties could do to make themselves better for service selection. They had been given their assignments and now were ready to choose dates, locations, and ships. The Marine selectees were in and out in an hour. The Surface Warfare selectees had 60 seconds to choose before being thrown into the penalty box. The Naval Aviation selectees spend most of the night in Smoke hall hoping and praying that by the time they made it to the head of the line their choice location and date were not already taken. The Submarine selectees picked dates and were planning how to spend or save their $10,000 bonus. Three and a half long years... and they had finally made it.

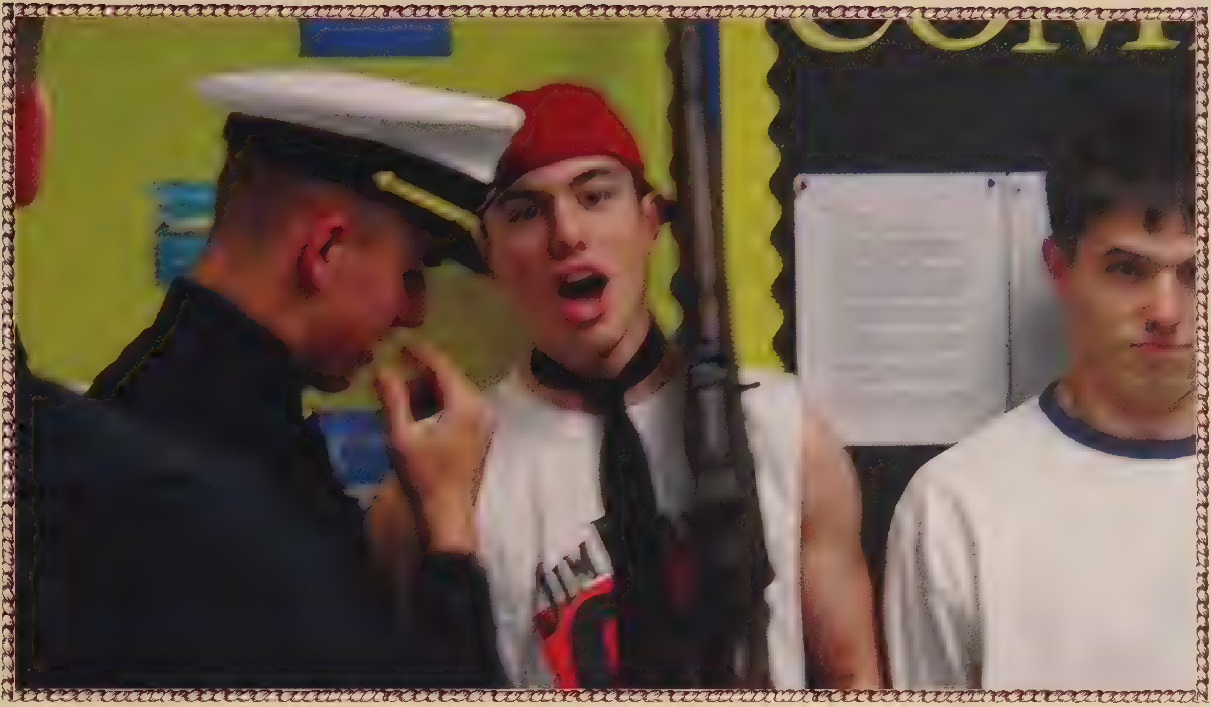
100's Night

13 February 2002

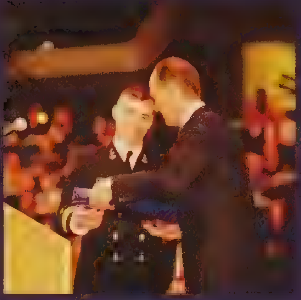




CLASS
SAGLIMBENE 02



Hundreds Night gives plebes the chance to take revenge on their firsties. For one night. One hundred days before graduation, the plebes wear firstie insignia and the firsties fall into the role of plebes one final time. Imitating plebes and their notorious stupidity, the creative uniforms, disobedience, and relaxation are rampant. While these spot promoted firsties yell and scream, the newly demoted plebes react in unprofessional ways. But the night is short-lived and the plebes still have... over 900 days until their Hundreds Night.



Forrestal Lectures

September - March

Starting in 1970, the Class of 1946 has been helping fund the Forrestal Lectures Series in order to provide speakers that heighten awareness and education among the midshipmen. The topics vary among government, the arts, humor, literature, education, sports, politics, science and other major fields. This year, the Brigade heard Senator John McCain speak on our duty after September 11th. "The privilege, the duty and the honor, that was once mine ... is now yours," he told us. Dr. Robert Ballard, who is most famous for the discovery of the Titanic , talked of Plate Tectonics, underwater volcanoes, and how Continental Margins tied in to several other discoveries. Justice Scalia talked of the flexibility of the Constitution and the incredible importance of the Federalist Papers. Capt. Bill Shepherd, 1971 graduate of the Naval Academy, gave a very impressive slide show and speech on his recent command of the Expedition-1 which worked on the International Space Station. A former Underwater Demolition Team member and SEAL, Shepherd impressed and inspired us all. Finally, Robert Kaplan, author and journalist, was a Naval Academy Foreign Affairs Committee guest. He gave an eloquent speech addressing philosophy and critical thinking in the face of terrorism and non-conventional threats. Next year's challenge is to provide another strong group of speakers.

Formal Dinners

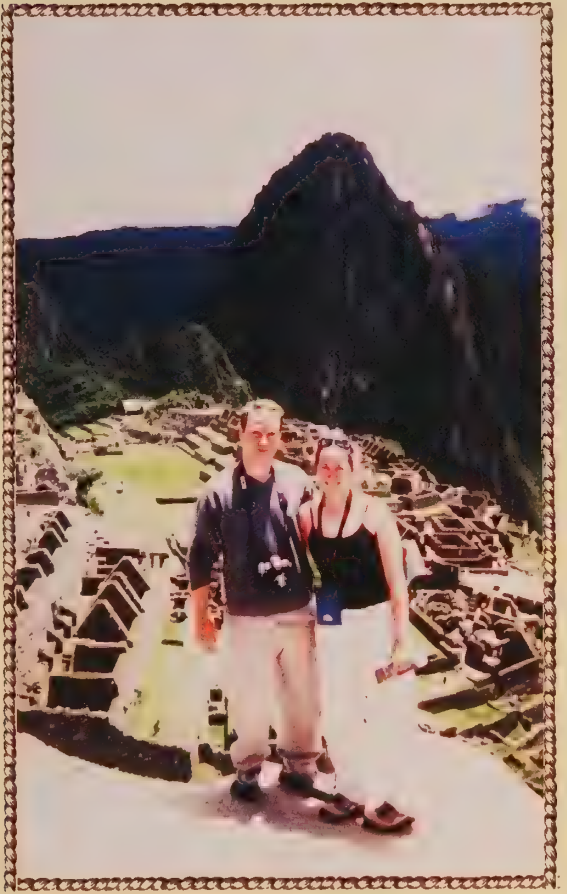
October - May

From Dining Ins to the Midway dinner, midshipmen get several opportunites to participate in formal dining. We are taught about etiquette at a Dining Out and the consequence of the grog. We hear speeches from war heroes and incredible civilians. We eat with classmates and toast to good times. We set a table for the POW that we have not forgotten and pray for fallen shipmates. We walk away a little wiser - or maybe a little tipsy. It's these nights we smile and laugh and maybe forget about academics for a short time.

SPRING

Spring Break

9-17 March 2002



Have Mid. Will Travel. For many, Spring Break is a time to unwind from the rigors of the "Dark Ages" and prepare for the final push into final exams. Most of all, however, Spring Break is a chance to travel to far off and exotic places. And Midshipmen truly will go far far off!

Jamaica, Costa Rica, Belize, Europe, even Peru are only some of the places most frequented by Mids this past Spring Break.

Some Mids even take the opportunity to travel to the Royal Military Academy for the week, in Jolly Ol' England. Or with the religious extra curricular clubs that travel together each Spring Break. Last year it was the Holy Land. This year they traveled to Eastern Europe and Rome.

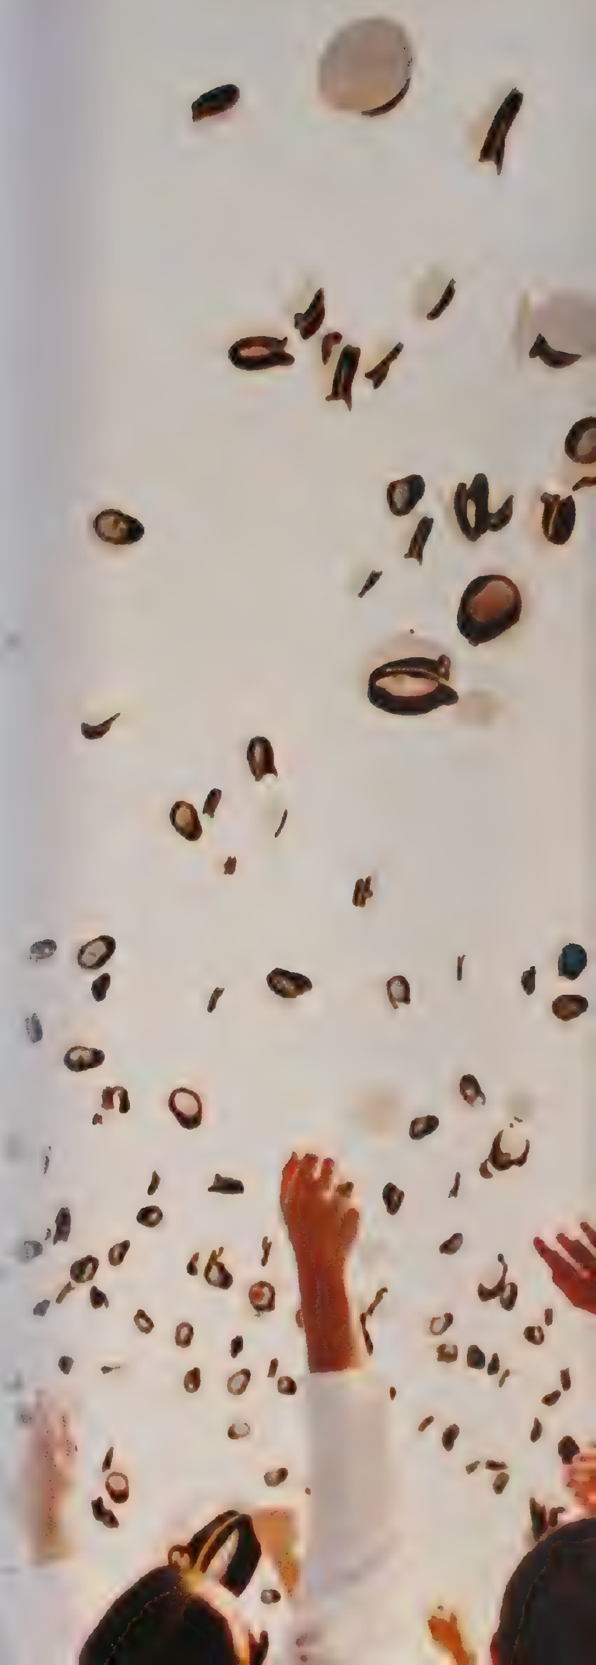
Lest we forget all those left behind on the Yard, stuck on restriction. Hopefully they will get to travel during a summer break.

Croquet Match

27 April 2002

It has long been tradition to have a croquet match versus St. John's College. 28th Company, better known on this day as "Club 28" has been playing St. John's on their turf since a midshipman long ago boasted that he could beat the "Johnnies" at any sport. To that, a croquet match was presented by the Johnnie. Every year, Club 28 gets ready for the annual match with team practices and uniform preparations of ties and letter sweaters. 28's plebes readied their mess dress in order to professionally serve their players. This year brought beautiful weather, plenty of fans, and serious competition. Unfortunately, the Johnnies narrowly slid past us, but there's always next year!

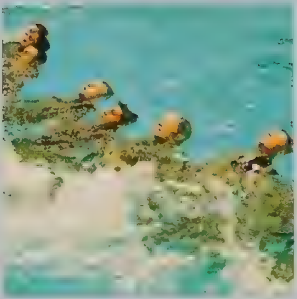
COMMISSIONING WEEK

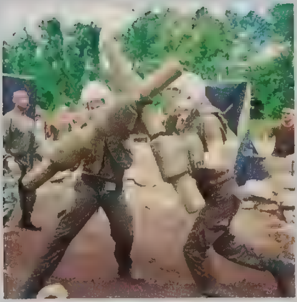


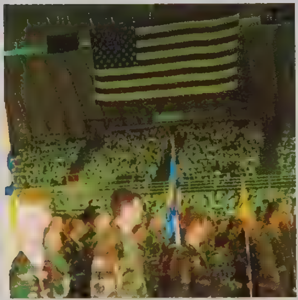
Blue Angels

22 May 2002

Each year during Commissioning Week, the Blue Angels perform their airshow for the graduating class. They do a practice show the day before and entertain a small crowd of people. The following day the full show is presented. This year however, one of the F/A-18s had mechanical difficulties so two planes left the show early. The remaining four finished with a fantastic show. The Angels returned two days later to salute the Class of 2002 at graduation.







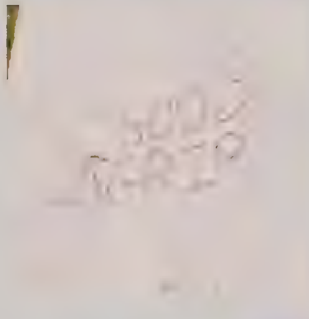
Sea Trials

14 May 2002

Sea Trials. The Naval Academy Crucible. The climax of plebe year. And what a day it was for the Class of 2005. Marching blind, ropes climbed, obstacles overcome, races won, pugil sticks jabbed, and the bear pit fed. Hungry, tired plebes were led by strong first and second class. But the plebes never quit. They spent time in Lejuene swimming, maybe nearly drowning. Plebe summer squads ran around and around. They found themselves low-crawling at almost every corner of the yard. They trudged through mud at the Naval Station, dodging paintballs and climbing hills with ammo boxes and alice packs. And they finished. 2005 stood proudly before the men of the Class of 1955 and received their youngster anchors by upperclass. Hoorah.

Herndon

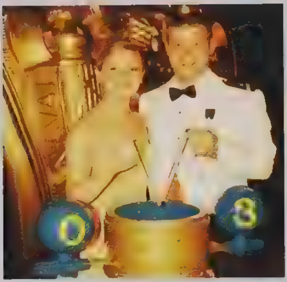
27 April 2002

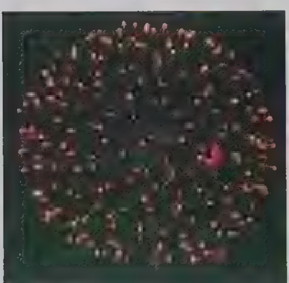


Herndon Monument, built in June of 1860,has been covered in lard and grease. Upperclass have written friendly messages encouraging the plebes to keep going, they are almost done. But the plebes don't care much for the decorations and throw their shoes and white works at it to restore Herndon to it's original granite state. Plebes climb on each other, use teamwork, sweat, and muscle... and prove successful. After 2 hours, 7 minutes, and 41 seconds - the exact same time the Class of 2002 had three years earlier - 4/C Daniel Knott replaces the dixie cup with a midshipman's combo cover. They are plebes no longer.

Ring Dance

19 May 2002





After three long years of waiting, the Class of 2003's Ring Dance had finally come. Plans and reservations were made far in advance for the weekend. Friday plans varied from parties to cruises to plays and dinners. Saturday led to hair appointments and formal dress. Since the day forecasted rain, the dinner went inside King Hall. But the band and formalities made it a more beautiful place. The dance itself was held in Dalghren hall where it was warm and romantic. Formal pictures started hours before and went long into the night. Rings were dipped, finally christened in the waters of the seven seas. Concluding the early part of the night was the spectacular show of fireworks over a clear night. Limo's, Hummers, and Sedans drove away as the dance was ending. But, the night was young and there were more parties to attend. As Sunday closed the weekend, many slept in and woke late. Some enjoyed their first day of being engaged while others said goodbye and thanked their date for coming. But for all, it was a night to remember.

Garden Party

20-21 May 2002

The Superintendent's garden party is an annual event in which the Firsties and their families and friends are invited to go through a receiving line. Each person met the Superintendent and his wife before entering the garden where there were drinks and h'ors duerves. A quintet played in the background while the Blue Angels mingled with the Class of 2002 and their guests. In a few short days, the Superintendent would be honored by the graduates by becoming an honorary member of Class of 2002.

Parades
Dedication Parade
&
Color Parade

21 & 23 May 2002

Commissioning week parades include the Dedication Parade, in which retiring faculty and staff members are recognized and honored, and the Color Parade, which honors the Color Company. The Dedication Parade gives first semester stripers one last chance to march in their old spots. With the help of the Superintendent and the Color Honoree, the Color Company was turned over from the Tenth Company to Fifth Company this year. These two parades are exciting simply because they are the final parades for the Class of 2002. Our shoes might be the only thing left to fill, '03...

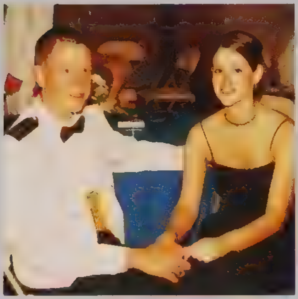
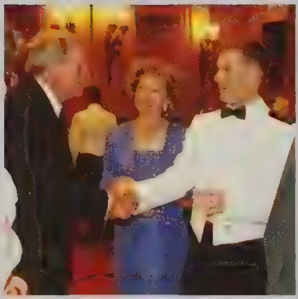
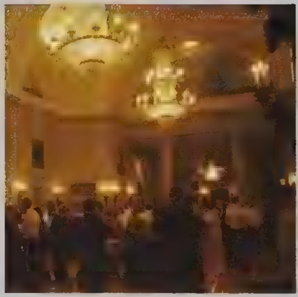
Formals

Graduation Ball
&
Farewell Ball

21-22 May 2002



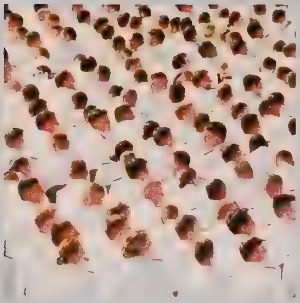




It was the last chance for the Firsties to go to a Naval Academy formal. Taking place during commissioning week, the Graduation Ball and Farewell Ball gave families and friends a chance to see the fun side of USNA. The Electric Brigade played and sang for both events and gave the Class of 2002 a good send off. The dances were dedicated to the Firsties for the four years of hard work and dedication they had put in. It could not have meant more to have families there to celebrate with the soon-to-be Junior Officers. For some, it was a time of goodbyes to younger midshipmen, to four years of hardship, and four years of the best friendships. For others, it was a chance to look ahead at a new career, a new family, and a new group of friends. For all, it was a chance to celebrate.

Graduation

24 May 2002



From the early morning arrival to the singing of "Navy Blue and Gold", we were nothing but excited. The Class of 2002 had endured four long, long, long years... and in minutes, we'd be commissioned officers. We heard Mercy Pattawi and Justin Carrell sing the National Anthem. Our honorary member of the Class of 2002, Vice Admiral John R. Ryan, Superintendent, gave the introduction and we dedicated part of the ceremony to our fallen classmates, Stephen Douglas and Kenneth Edward Neptun. The Honorable Richard B. Cheney, Vice President of the United States, made the graduation address and presented the diplomas to all 965 graduates. General James L. Jones, Commandant of the Marine Corps, administered the Oath of Office to the Marine selectees. For a few minutes, our Marine counterparts outranked the remaining midshipman to whom Admiral Vern Clark, Chief of Naval Operations, administered the Oath of Office. After Justin Nassiri and Kate Krantz led "Navy Blue and Gold", we received cheers "for those about to leave us". As we concluded the cheers "for those we leave behind", the covers flew and we turned the Academy over to the Class of 2003. Fair winds and following seas, Shipmates.

Varsity Football

Navy's 2001 football season was another rebuilding year, hoping to fix the leaks that kept them 1-10 in 2000. Although their record made fans and midshipmen doubt their ability, the 2001 squad brought the same intensity to the table that they've been known for in years past. Captains Ed Malinowski of the offense, and Brendan Bowen of the Defense, led their team in practices and morale, keeping their spirits and intensity up even when the naysayers had their way with them.

The team experienced two very disappointing defeats in Temple and Georgia Tech at the beginning of the season, and then cancelled their game against Northwestern in the wake of the events on September 11th. The Air Force game was held at Fed Ex Field in Landover, where Navy put forth their strongest effort, but still came up six points shy. Their match against Toledo led them within breathing distance, but fate frowned on the Navy squad once again.

In 2002, the Navy football team will play under the new leadership of Paul Johnson, and will once again show their shipmates and fans that they are a team of courage, strength, and pride.

The 102nd Army-Navy Classic: Philadelphia

The infamous Army-Navy football game is the highlight weekend of the year for many midshipmn, the culmination of a season for underclass, and a career for the firsties. Emotions run hot in the stands, and even hotter on the field where midshipmen and cadets face-off on the field of battle. This year, the passion in the stands was less noticeable, but the intensity on the field burned as bright as ever. Army ran away with this one, but the midshipman will be back with force for the 2002 season, taking no prisoners and making no apologies.

Cheerleading

The cheerleaders for the 2001-2002 season were a delight to the brigade and those who watched them. Their hardwork and dedication drew spirit and motivation.

Team captains Leslie Boegel and Brian Psolka along with seniors Tim White, Amanda Donges, Anja Easterly, Kasey Short, Belinda King, and Julie Rawson led the squad on the sidelines of football and basketball games throughout the year. The second and third class proved that the team will stay tight when the class of 2002 say their final goodbyes to the mats and sidelines that occupied much of their time at the Academy.

The strong core of underclass, and bonds of friendship that keep them tight will help the cheerleaders continue to grow and help motivate the brigade. CHEER NAVY!

Sprint Football

If one word were needed to sum up the championship season put together this year by Navy Sprint Football, it would be brotherhood. From start to finish, plebes to firsties, offense to defense, this team demonstrated a sense of unity and teamwork that is rarely seen. Head Coach Major Sparky Renforth, USMC, a former Sprint Football Captain himself, supported by numerous dynamic position coaches on both sides of the ball, inspired his players with his daily talks and vibrant leadership. The high powered offense, led by senior co-captain Doug Neves, put up 184 points on the season. 1/C Mario Valenti, 2/C Ed Donahoo, 2/C Kip Rainey, 2/C Adam Matthews, 3/C Chris Ashinhurst, 3/C Maurice Chapman, 3/C Randall Leslie, and 3/C Antonio Lozada all contributed heavily to the offensive output. The hard hitting defense acted as the backbone of the team throughout the season. Led by 1/C Craig Salveson, 1/C Ike Turner, 1/C Matt Olson, 2/C Steve Healy, 2/C Tim Gallagher, 3/C John Collins, 3/C John Schindel, 3/C Chris Zachary, and 3/C Jamie Glines, the defense surrendered only 78 points in 7 games, and led the league in nearly every defensive category.

The last game of the season epitomized everything this team stood for. Up at Army, playing for the league championship against the only team that had beaten them during the season, Navy, in overtime, scored in 5 plays and then intercepted the last pass of the game to win the championship. In this program, players learn how to be good leaders, how to be men. This team won because no one ever let the man next to him down, and in the end that's all that really matters. "We few, we happy few, we band of brothers; For he today who sheds his blood with me shall be my brother." --Navy Sprint Football, 2001 CSFL Champs

The 2001 Navy soccer team had the privilege of becoming the first team to step into the magnificent new Glenn Warner Soccer Facility. This top of the line complex became the new home to Navy Soccer. The facility was finished just in time for the season, though was not officially dedicated until November 9th when the midshipmen played Patriot League rival Bucknell. The dedication speech given by team captain Justin Fishburn summed up the excellence, professionlism, and 'spirit of winning' of the new facility, former alumni soccer players, and the current team.

Men's Soccer

The team, led by captain Justin Fishburn and seniors Brian Steckroth, Mike O'Sullivan, Nick Huber, Brye Gerhardt, and Nate Scott and trainer Dustin Evans knew they would be a strong force to reckon with once again for all opponents, and were very determined to show their winning ways to all they faced.

The season began on a very high note with the mids winning their first 5 out of 7 games with a close loss to American and a tie to Mount St. Mary's. From the very beginning of the season the mids would have to rely on the strength of their junior class and their preseason All-American goalkeeper Brian Steckroth.

Throughout the season, the mids played in 10 overtime periods, which they were able to show their tenacity and winning ways by never losing in any of these contests.

The season ended when a last minute deflection put Holy Cross over the mids in the Patriot League Tournament. This gave the mids an 11-3-3 record for the season.

Senior goalkeeper Brian Steckroth finished the season with All-American honors, along with Craig Ruhs earning All-south Atlantic regional team honors. Brye Garhardt, Justin Fishburn, Bobby Cherneski, and Matt Wilson also earned Patriot League honors.

The core of the team will now be preparing for another successful season in 2002, with the hope of yet another outstanding season and a bid to the NCAA tournament.

Never give in, never give in, never give in, never, never, never, never-in-nothing, great or small, large or petty never give in except to convictions of honor and good sense.
- Sir Winston Churchill

Sir Winston Churchill would have been proud of the 2001 Navy Women's Soccer team. A team that is defined by relentless hard work, pure heart, and great friends who endured many triumphs and defeats. Despite the defeats, the team was lifted each time by the leadership of its six seniors: Justine Fisher, Heather Honnette, Erin Kelly, Vanessa Solon, and Ben Hobbs.

Women's Soccer

The team's performance can be marked by the actions of 3/C Amelia Sheveland on a bitter October evening. "Never give in, never, never, never," is exactly what Amelia did to propel her team into overtime of the Patriot League final. She confidently placed the ball back in the net in the final seconds of regulation time to give her team one more chance.

This season we are proud to boast the 2001 Patriot League Defensive Player of the Year, 2/C Kate MacFarlane; 2001 Patriot League Offensive Player of the Year, 3/C Stacy Finley, and Patriot League Rookie of the Year, 4/C Xochitl Piedra. In addition, the 2001 Navy Women's Soccer team was named to the Academic All-America Team. The greatness of our season was not necessarily captured in the 16-5-1 season, but by the spirit and will of our team.

Our 2001 volleyball season may not have been one that the team would call successful since we did not accomplish our goal to play in the Patriot League Tournament, but it was an experience that I will always cherish. Being able to lead a great group of girls, made my first real leadership experience a very smooth and enjoyable one. The dedication and commitment that go along with being a part of any team are the things that anyone carry forward into the future. It's the relationships we built and the minor shortcomings we overcame as a team that I will always remember. The differences that made each person unique, formed a group of varying personalites, and yet one thing we all shared was enough to make a cohesive unit on our court—dedication.

Men's Cross Country

Start: A 2-hour July trail run in the middle of Rocky Mountain National Park at the ridiculous elevation of 10,000 feet spanning 15 miles, 23% grades, and occasional personnel separations.

Finish: An 8,000 meter lime stone crushing experiment at the Bronx's infamous Van Cortlandt National Historic Stomping Grounds accompanied by runner-up honors in the Heptagonal Championship and a very satsfying annihilation of Princeton University.

In 2001, the Navy Men's Cross Country team commenced a rebuilding phase of epic proportions. This year the road to the Heptagonals went through all 200 miles of trailway in Boulder, CO, and three competitive road meets. In fact, while other schools with higher travel budgets went to exotic locations such as Minnesota and South Carolina , the Navy Men's team, in addition to conquering the University of Illinois Motor Speedway, explored every square inch of the Jersey Turnpike en route to decent finish at Iona and yet another obliteration of Army on their own course.

In 2002, he team loses only two graduating seniors and looks to make its first trip to the NCAA Championships since 1997. Undoubtedly, the road to Indiana State in November will once again go through cities such as New York, New York, New York, and even New York. The team's preparation and talent could very well lead them to a berth in the Big Dance.

Women's Cross Country

A young Navy cross country team gained valuable experience this fall, setting many personal records along the way. With five seniors graduating last year, we built camaraderie while taking home early victories in the Seagull Opener and our only home meet of the season. The goal this fall was to emphasize group running and capitalize on each other's strengths.

At the Paul Short Invitational, 1/C Melanie Stock, 3/C Abby Wilder, 3/C Sara Watters, 3/C Stephanie Patterson, and 4/C Kristyn Kern accomplished that finishing within 48 seconds of each other.

The season also was bolstered by strong performances at the NCAA Mid-Atlantic Regional meet. Entering with a preliminary ranking of 10th, the women finished eighth in a tough field. While medals and winning times were abundant, so too were the memories.

None can forget the bus rides with Captain, the winner of form drills, the taste of bagels and spoon less yogurt. As the season concluded with bike trail runs and the infamous lost hill behind us, the young team will carry experience, poise, and the best set of legs into the Brigade next fall.

The Navy water polo team capped off the season with another appearance in the Eastern Conference final four.

Led by first classmen Brendan Naeve('02) and Barry Shaw('02), the team was able to advance to the final four of the Eastern Conference. The mids ended the season with a winning record of 17-7(.710).

Returning five starters from the highly successful 2000 season provided a strong foundation to work from for coaches Mike Schofield and Carl Salyer. Training twenty hours a week brought the highly competitive mids to the forefront of the Eastern Conference. Behind the hard work of starters Brendan Naeve, Barry Shaw, Nick Hill('03), Adrian Rawn('03), Joe Donahue('04), Tim Fox('04), and Pat Rollo('05) the mids tallied their excellent winning percentage. Naeve, Shaw, Hill, Rawn, and Donhue were honored in the Southern Conference. Both Shaw and Donahue were also honored in the Eastern Conference. Hill was honored for the second season in a row on the All-American team.

Cody Acuna, Ben Ceniseroz, Nick Hill, Adrian Rawn, and Steve Phillabaum will lead the mids to victory in the upcoming 2002 season.

Our season was one that we weren't accustomed to. As a team we had always experieced success due to our hard work and ability to play the game of basketball. The season gave us many moments of joy and its fair share of pain. From a positive standpoint the guys are young, talented, and hungry to return to the standard of excellence that we always strive for. With an extremely strong senior class returning being led by Jason Jeanpierre, Francis Ebong, Scott Long, Kyle Barker, Mitch Moore, and Quintrell "Da Banger" McCreary, we as graduating seniors know that things will get back to normal; and that we must except the fact that for us there isn't just one more game! NTF forever.

The lights have dimmed and the court is empty. The crowds have all retired to their homes for the spring and summer. They have already forgotten about the games when we celebrated the close victory and games when victory simply eluded us. We too may have forgotten. But, we haven't forgotten the times that actually matter, the times that will bond us together for the rest of our lives. The times that make ever drop of blood, every tear, and every bead of sweat worth it in the end. The times when we could each look to our left and right and know without a doubt that we trusted the person standing next to us whole heartedly. The times when we laughed until we cried, and the times when we were truly one team indivisible through tribulation and adversity. As time passes these memories will slowly fade, but the emotion behind them will not, for in our minds, hearts, and souls we will all be apart of NWB forever.

SWIMMING

The Navy men's swimming and diving team concluded its season with a 5-7 record, beating Army for the eleventh year in a row. The team finished seventh at this year's EISL Championship meet. 1/C Brett Cline led the team this year with a new school record in the 100 freestyle event. 1/C Cline broke the old record of 44.69 with a time of 44.67. Team Captain Garrett Kulczycki had a strong season, posting personal bests mid-season against Yale and Cornell, and placed 21st in the 1650 yard freestyle event at EISLs. 1/C Brad Harrison rounded out his diving caree placing 15th in the men's 1 meter and 16th in the 3 meter at EISLs. Valuable leadership and strong swims were pro-vided by 1/C Darren Bounds, Andrew Chauvin, Dan Floyd, Donnie Muller, and Tim Ray in each and every meet. The diver's consistency has always been a key to the Navy's success during the season. 3/C Thatcher Carr and 2/C Casey Gon provided a strong two person combination during dual meets. The team is showing a great deal of strength for the years to come with a majority of the championship roster coming from the plebe and youngster class. The team will look towards the strong leadership of the upcoming 1/C next year. 2/C Jimmy Battista, Jon Rank, and Sumner Rollings finished off a strong season and look toward making more gains next season. They will all be instrumental to a strong season next year.

The Women's Swimming and Diving Team finished another winning season in March, after capturing seven dual meet victories, their 13th consecutive Army win, and another Patriot League Championship title that came down to the last event. Besides hours of training in the cold waters of Lejuene, the girls enjoyed a super fun season. The year was led by Captain Melissa Hawley and seniors Katie Ball, Julie Dunnigan, Amy Jones, Cari Murtagh, Kristi Tjoa, and Kate Windstein. The season began with an open water swim in Ocean City, and to the coaches' pleasant surprise no one drowned or got attacked by sharks. The girls toughed out cold early mornings in Floridaduring Christmas break after late nights of clubbing. Their New Year's trip to Key West was an essential part of winter training, and even Mrs. Ryan took notice of the team with a blueberry pancake breakfast at the Buchanan House. The plebe class was not only a huge factor of the teams success in the pool but on the dance floor as well. Thanks to CAPT and Mrs. Rubel for four wonderful years, to managers, Megan, Zach, and Murel, and to coaches, Joe Suriano, Steve Jungbluth and Hoss, the season was a huge success!

The 2001-2002 Navy men's indoor track posted a 6-1 record. The team was lead by head coach, Steven Cooksey and indoor team captain, C.J. Simonsen. A dramatic 3 point victory over Army highlighted the Navy men's indoor track 2001-2002 season. After losing last years indoor meet to Army, the Navy men looked to avenge the loss.

2/C Aaron Lanzel lead the charge with a victory over Army's Clay Schwabe - an NCAA All American in the 1500 meters last spring. 2/C Lanzel also placed second behind teammate 3/C Max Schmidt in the 1000 meter run, while 1/C Doug Kay finished first in the 500 meter dash. In the jumping events, 4/C Adriel Morgan finished first in the long jump with a leap of 23'11", and

1/C Daniel Chapman took home second place in the triple jump. Steve Ranes threw a career best 56'1" in the shot put to place first. Eric Porter won the 400m dash, while Aaron Dausman scored crucial points in his first N-Star match by placing first in the 800m . Outdoor track captain Tom Delaney won the pole vault, while the two-mile relay team of Barry Carmody, Ray Driscoll, Schmidt and Kay clinched Navy's victory with a meet-ending first place performance.

Event leaders for the season include 1/C Steve Ranes in the shot put, 2/C Jake Cahalan in the 35 lb weight, 1/C Tom Delaney in the pole vault, 1/C Daniel Chapman in the triple jump, 4/C Adriel Morgan in the long jump. The running event leaders were 1/C C.J. Simonsen in the 55m and 200m dashes, 3/C Sina Ekundayo in the 55m high hurdles, 3/C Erik Porter in the 400m dash, 1/C Doug Kay in the 500m and who also set a new school record in the 800m run, Aaron Lanzel in the 1000m and 1600m, 2/C Ben Morris in the 3000m and 3/C Eric Eckstrand in the 5000m.

The highlight of the Navy women's track & field indoor season was its fourth N-Star victory in the last-five seasons, defeating Army, 93-88.

The Midshipmen were led by Lisa Procaccini (Jr./Vienna, Va.), who was victorious in both the mile (5:02.88) and the 1000m (3:00.11). Melanie Stock (Sr./Mechanicsburg, Pa.) -- the captain of Navy's cross country team this fall -- won the 3000m with a time of 10:18.03 to complete a sweep of the three-longest distance events.

Freshman sensation Tineisha Davis (Madisonville, Ky took home first-place honors in the 400m dash with a time of 56.68 and finished second in the 800m in a time of 2:21.40.

In the field events, Amanda Hasenauer (Jr./Sebastian, Fla.) kept her undefeated streak alive in the pole vault (11'9.75"), while Shannon Crites (Jr./Powell, Ohio) and Joanne Uwujaren (Jr./Burke, Va.) were winners in the high jump (5'5") and triple jump (38'3.5"), respectively.

Katie Scotidas (Fr./Massapequa, N.Y.) won the 55m hurdles (8.45) in her first N-Star competition, while Army-Navy veteran Amy Stokes (Jr./Fort Washington, Md.) won the 500m for the Mids with a time of 1:18.90.

Navy's mile and two-mile relay teams made sure the Star was coming back to the Naval Academy by securing first-place finishes to close out the meet. Stokes, Eva Tukarski (Fr./Crofton, Md.), outdoor track captain Jessica Crocker (Sr./White Lake, Mich.) and Kacee Jossis (So./Boise, Idaho) completed the mile relay in a time of 3:59.77, while Colleen Maloney (So./Canton, Ohio), Carin Benge (Fr./Plymouth, Ind.), Maureen Carr (Jr./Fair Haven, Md.) and Davis ran the two-mile relay in a time of 9:33.50.

Hasenauer and Davis both set Navy school records in their respective events, as well as meet records, at the Patriot League Indoor Track & Field Championship at Army. The Mids placed third overall (112 points) behind Bucknell (167) and Army (123.16).

Hasenauer (Sebastian, Fla.) broke her own school record of 12'7.5" in the pole vault, set Dec. 8 at Navy's Lid Lifter meet, with winning leap of 12'10". Hasenauer has not lost the pole vault in her three seasons of competing at the indoor Patriot League Championships, and was named the Field Performer of the Meet for her efforts.

Davis (Madisonville, Ky.) continued her successful rookie campaign by breaking her second school record of the year. Already holding Navy's indoor record in the 200m dash (Dec. 8) with a time of 25.25, Davis racked up the school's 400m dash record with her meet-record winning time of 55.34 seconds. The Navy record was previously held by Joanna Helm, who ran a time of 56.17 in 2000. Davis' mark was just .04 seconds away from provisionally qualifying her for the NCAA Championships.

Amy Stokes (Jr./Fort Washington, Md.) led a trio of point-scoring Mids in the 500m run by placing first with her time of 1:16.69. Outdoor track captain Jessica Crocker (Sr./White Lake, Mich.) was the third-place finisher (1:17.59), while last season's Patriot League 500m champion, Kacee Jossis' (So./Boise, Idaho) 1:18.58 time was good for sixth place.

Men's Gymnastics

AAI
AMERICAN

The 2002 Navy Men's Gymnastics (NMG2K2) season was a long, but exciting, season that will be remembered for years to come. The team lost no seniors from last season and relied on a core group of five firsties to carry the load. They also welcomed the addition of two incoming freshman to add to the teams depth. Head coach, Dr. Sho Fukushima and assistant coach LTJG Craig Holt were quick to take advantage of this situation. After a rigorous training season during the fall, they were prepared to enter the 2001 season.

Beginning the year at the West Point Open, they learned quickly that many hours of hard work were still needed. They went on to win the JMU Open and added a few more wins after that. Following that meet, NMG participated in the All-Academy Championships in Florida. Placing second, and falling short once again to Army for the second year in a row, this only fueled the fire for the next weekends match-up. Anticipating the arrival of West Point for the N-star meet, the Navy team trained for a victory. Redemption was finally achieved when Navy scored its highest score of the year defeating the heavily favored Army team by over a point. Redemption was achieved once again in the ECAC Championships when Navy finished 4th in the conference for the third year in a row beating out Army who they had fallen to two previous times during the year. As a result of this meet, Navy qualified six gymnasts to the NCAA championships in Oklahoma. Representing Navy were Team Captain senior Tripp Glasgow (pommel horse, high bar), senior Dan Finnegan (all-around), senior Nick Willet (floor), senior Andy Helchinger (vault, parallel bars), freshman Josh Blackman (high-bar), and freshman Scott Cochran (pommel horse). After representing Navy well at this meet, the team was invited to participate in the USA Collegiate Championships. Navy ended the season on a high note finishing third to the College of William of Mary and the University of California, Santa Barbara. Individual honors went to Finnegan, Glasgow, Willet, Helchinger, and Barker as all of them earned All-American status. Finnegan received a special honor being awarded the most outstanding senior athlete at the Championships.

Navy finished up the season feeling good about what they had done. They had the best meet of the season when it needed to count the most. They will lose five big contributors to the team, but will rely on the energy and talent of the young group that is emerging as superstars. They will certainly be hungry for next season's challenges. The team returns three juniors on a team that could challenge for a conference title over the next two years. With the addition of new freshman and a solid off-season of training, NMG will certainly be a force to be reckoned with.

Boxing

This years Navy Boxing Team, coached by Jim McNally and Jim Searing had a very successful season. Lead by Captains Ben Zuber and Steve Cobos, the young team has continued to set the standard for boxing in the NCBA. This year, for the first time ever, every member won a Regional title. This momentum launched the team into the National Championships, and placed the team second in the nation. Frank Parisi, a southpaw youngster, out of the Bronx, New York won his first National Championship in the 132lb weight division. Ben Zuber, a graduating firstie from New Jersey finished his career with his second National title in the 185lb division. Other firsties like Nic Sidiropolus, 165lb Brigade Champion and winner or the Most Improved Boxer Award, brought tremendous leadership to the team. New to the team was Officer Representative Captain Burrell USMC who supported the team with energy and leadership. The elite squad is already looking forward to a promising season next year.

Navy Wrestling – Keep your feet on the ground but reach for the Stars! And Always Go for the Gold!

This season for Navy Wrestling was crucial. Under our first full year of direction from the new Coaching Staff (Bruce Burnett, U.S. Olympic Team and Joel Sharrat, University of Iowa), we tackled a strong schedule in an effort to elevate the status and expectations for the Blue and Gold. After strong showings on the West Coast in November and solid winter tournament performances in Pennsylvania and Chigaco, the Team failed to step up and beat highly ranked teams at the Dallas Duals in January. Fueled by this disappointment, Navy Wrestling knocked off a number of strong opponents including Rutgers, Maryland, and UNC for the first time in over a decade. Despite these accomplishments, there were some team losses that need to be avenged as soon as possible. In our last dual meet of the season, the enthusiastic Brigade of Midshipmen supported our preparation and fueled our efforts we took on Army in Alumni Hall to win another N-Star victory.

In the sport of wrestling, Results are Rewarded. Conference medallists this season for Navy were Mike Carbonaro, Luke Lazzo, Mike Bigrigg, Steve Kovach, and champion Mark Conley. Junior Steve Kovach and Senior Mark Conley qualified for the NCAA's in Albany, NY. There, Kovach came points away from placing and will return next year to go for the Gold. Coaches Burnett and Sharratt brought their second All-American performance back to Annapolis in as many years at the helm when Conley placed sixth in the tournament. Seven starters will return next year to compete with a great group of athletes for the right to represent the Academy, the Navy, and the country wearing the Blue and Gold.

Squash

The Navy Squash team wrapped a great 2001-2002 season. The season started off with a whipping of the Alumni Team. Navy fueled by the leadership of the first class, finished # 11 in the country. Seniors Andy McCann, Stephen Huber, and Matt Fisher provided the sparked needed to lead the team to a higher ranking than it had achieved in the last 4 seasons. Making names for themselves this year Edson Redwood Greenwood and David Haile provided the team with not only comedy but crucial wins throughout the season. Also have strong junior year campaigns Bill Schermund and Kinelong Ho, stepped up from the ranks of the JV squad to fill in vital spots on the team for Navy this season. Mason Berry started off the season slowly, but his desire to win, took control and he chopped down players inthe second half of the season. In their first season on the team freshman Mike Brennan, Gavin Morrison and Jeb Barrett survived their introduction to intercollegiate Squash. This year Navy had three members of their team invited to Individual Nations. Captain Andy McCann, Edson Greenwood, and Dave Haile all represented Navy with strong outings. Dave Haile surprised the Squash world by placing 38th in the country, the highest Navy individual ranking in several years. Greenwood and McCann also ended the season with strong wins placing 42 and 50.

Rifle

The Navy Rifle team had a very successful season with another return to the NCAA Championships. With outlined goals, we used the weekly matches to prepare for the NCAA Championships. The returning members found tough competition within the ranks that helped push them beyond their known performance barriers. With positive leadership from the first class, a successful training environment lead to our success. We had strong performances from two firsties- Bill Tolson and Luke Shank. In addition to top efforts from 2/c James Kauber and 3/c Marta Jung, the team witnessed the progress of two plebes- Matt Albright and Mike Miller.

The season was highlighted with a new team record in air rifle at the NCAA Championships and another victory over Army. Our final 6th place ranking was well-earned and demonstrated the team's efforts through a long and difficult season.

SPRING SPORTS

The Navy lacrosse team finished 8-5 for the second-consecutive year and posted its sixth-straight winning season. Highlighting the spring were wins over ECAC foes UMBC, Rutgers and Penn State, while one-goal losses to North Carolina, Maryland and Johns Hopkins would have put the Mids into the NCAA Tournament. Navy , however, capped off the season with its fifth-straight Star Game win over Army, a 9-6 decision on West Point territory. Third class Ben Bailey schooled the Black Knights with a three-goal, one-assist performance after leaving the Naval Academy at 6 a.m. that morning and traveling five-plus hours to join the team and lead it to victory.

Leading scorer and team captain firstie Eddie McKinnon earned All-ECAC recognition, as did fellow first-class team members Micah Sybor and Jon Higdon. Meanwhile, midfielder/attack Bailey captured all-league kudos, as well. Junior midfielder Greg Conklin was named Honorable Mention All-American.

McKinnon leaves the Academy as its 13th all-time leading scorer, producing 126 points on 81 goals and 45 assists. Higdon served as Navy's cage guarder the last two years and has ranked in the top five nationally in goals-against average in each of the last two springs. He graduates 13th on the Mids' all-time saves list with 239.

The 2001-2002 Navy Golf Team had high expectations going into the year. With only one senior lost to graduation in 2001 the odds of an incredible season were in Navy's favor.

The season started at the Navy Fall Classic where the Midshipmen finished tied for 6th place. The team was led by sophomore standout Billy Hurley who was four under par for two rounds finished tied for first. The team welcomed the Army to the Naval Academy golf course on October 7th. Seniors Marty Keogh and Drew Craig led the Midshipmen in the final round with rounds of 73 and 72 respectively as they beat the Military Academy by 29 shots. Junior Brian Crum was the medalist of the N-star match with a two round total of 144. This marked the fourth year in a row Navy had beaten Army in the N-star match. The rest of the fall proved to be rough as the Midshipmen couldn't seem to find their groove. They finished 3rd at the Service Academy Classic, 17th at the Tillinghast Tournament, and 7th at the Hoya Invitational.

The golf team worked hard on their games during the off-season and bounced back in typical Naval Academy style in the spring. The team's 4-day training trip to Lake Nona, Florida, proved to be just what they needed to get ready for the upcoming season. The golf team started off in Port St. Lucie at the Treasure Coast Classic where they finished 4th out of 19 teams. Navy was led by Junior Nick Rogers who fired a one over par 145 to place 5th individually. Next the Midshipmen moved on to the Colonial Intercollegiate hosted by William and Mary. They finished 7th out of 18 teams. Navy was led by the Junior class of Brian Crum and Nick Rogers. Crum finished tied for 34th with a 9 over par 153 while Rogers finished 7th with a 1 over par 145. Next the team traveled to the eastern shore of Maryland where they would attempt to defend their team title at the Drew Upton Tiger Classic. The team was led by sophomore Billy Hurley who won the individual title with a five under par 139. The team finished 2nd place out of 21 teams and was unable to defend its title; Loyola College edged out the Mids by 2 strokes. Next the team would play host to the Navy Spring Invitational. The Mids again finished 2nd out of 21 teams as they were unable to beat out nationally ranked Minnesota. The Mids then traveled to Princeton where they finished 6th out of 19 teams. They finished a disappointing 2nd the following week at the Patriot League Championships and were unable to earn their 3rd straight NCAA bid. The team was led by sophomore Billy Hurley who finished tied for 1st with a 1 under par 209. The last week of competition took them to the University of Delaware where the Navy Team captured their first and only Team Title of the year. The team was led by Nick Rogers who claimed his first individual title with a 2 over par 144. Evidenced by the turnaround from the fall to the spring hard work and determination have been and always will be the Hallmark of the Navy Golf Team.

Baseball Wins Patriot League Championship!

Relief pitcher Steve Goocey struck out George Washington cleanup hitter Mike Bassett with two on in the ninth inning to give the Mids a 6-4 victory over the Colonials and the school's first NCAA Tournament victory in 20 years and just the fourth in school history.

Navy starting pitcher Matt Foster was sensational, giving up just three earned runs and eight hits in 7.1 innings of work. He walked three and struck out seven.

Navy's last NCAA tournament win came back in 1982 when the Mids defeated Delaware (3-1) and Seton Hall (15-5) in the Northeast Region in Orono, Maine. It was also just the second NCAA Tournament win for a Patriot League school, the other coming in 1993 when Fordham beat Connecticut.

Navy swept a best-out-of-three series from Lehigh to win the 2002 Patriot League Tournament title and advance to the NCAA Tournament. The Mids scored a 5-3 victory over the Mountain Hawks in the opening game at Max Bishop Stadium and clinched its first-tournament title and trip to the NCAA Tournament since 1999 when the Mids defeated Lehigh, 11-7, behind Foster's go-ahead grand slam in the top of the fifth inning.

Foster was named the tournament Most Valuable Player after allowing three runs on five hits with three strikeouts, en route to picking up his second win of the season in Navy's 5-3 win. In the Mids' 11-7 victory to clinch the title, he batted 4-for-4 with a single-game tournament record six RBIs to go along with his grand slam. Second baseman Dean Farmer went 3-for-5 with two RBIs, two stolen bases and three runs scored, while shortstop MIDN 2/C Brad Hager batted 3-for-4 with an RBI and two runs scored.

Prior to the tournament, Whitmyer was selected Patriot League Coach of the Year in a vote of the league's coaches, while relief pitcher MIDN 1/C Bryan Koehler (Lutz, Fla.) and starting pitcher MIDN 3/C Andy Froistad (St. Paul, Minn.) were named first-team All-Patriot League. Outfielders MIDN 1/C John Cocca (Whitehall, Pa.) and MIDN 4/C Pete Curnow (Morristown, N.J.) along with starting pitcher MIDN 2/C Rich McDevitt (Albany, N.Y.) each earned second-team honors. Curnow was named Honorable-Mention Freshman All-American.

Men's Outdoor Track

The Men's Outdoor Track team had an excellent season against the competition. Seniors C. J. Simonsen and Tom Delaney led the team to many successful victories including the Point Loma Invitational and in meets against Delaware, Ohio, American, and Colgate. Clearly, the Navy Men's Outdoor Track team was on the right track to victory for the 2001-2002 season.

Top: A hard backhand return

This year was very interesting for the Navy Tennis Team. The team returned three starters from the year before but no seniors. 2/c Cameron Lickle took over reigns as Captain of the team and was supported by fellow classmate and doubles partner 2/c Chris McGrath. The likes of 3/c Ryan Osgood and 3/c Voulgaris rounded out the remainder of the returnees. The team was inspired by the talents and hopes for a very successful future with the arrival of 4/c Davy Lee, 4/c Todd Thurston and 4/c Joe Weisberger.

The season began well for the team as they found themselves mid-way through the season with a 9-2 record thanks much to the contributions of vastly improved Ryan Osgood, who jumped into the number two position as well as freshman phenoms Davy Lee and Todd Thurston who posted identical 9-2 records. The team traveled to Hawaii for Spring Break and played some very competitive teams and returned to begin their Patriot League schedule, in which the team posted a 4-2 record. The highlight of the season occurred when the team played Army on March 2nd. Nearly 200 fans came to cheer on the team as they beat Army for the first time in two years by a score of 5-2.

The team clinched a berth to the Patriot League tournament and faced Colgate in the semi-final round. Although putting up a valiant effort, the team fell short by a score of 4-3. However, with the entire team returning, next year looks very promising.

A special thanks goes out to Aaron Schnetzler for all the hard work he put in for the team this year.

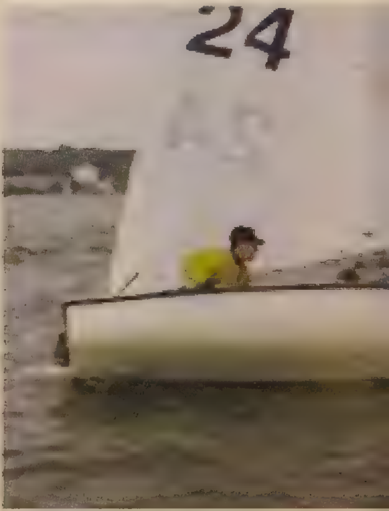
Offshore Sailing

The Varsity Offshore Sailing Team (VOST) competes in intercollegiate big boat regattas, many of which are hosted by the Naval Academy, as well as outside competition, both locally on the Chesapeake Bay and on the Eastern seaboard in the summer. The Offshore Sailing Team's fleet consists of Navy 44s, racing boats donated to the Naval Academy and J/24s. The twelve J/24's are used to train the younger members of the Offshore Team in sailing and racing techniques before moving up to the big boats, as well as give leadership opportunities to 3/c sailors each fall.

Intercollegiate Sailing



Navy is one of the most active sailing programs of the 180-member Intercollegiate Sailing Association. The team will sail in over 60 college and one-design regattas during the 14-week fall and 13-week spring sailing seasons each year. With 125 ICSA member schools located in the Middle Atlantic and New England districts, Annapolis is situated just far enough south to sail into the late fall and start early each spring and be at the center of college sailing's most active area. Team practices usually last three hours, four days a week. Since the Robert Crown Sailing Center is a short walk from Bancroft Hall and the sailing area is right outside the basin, there is little time lost to travel each day.

The dinghy team has a fleet of 136 Lasers, 22 420s, 22 FJ's, four Interclub Dinghies and two Tech Dinghies,giving the team the flexibility to practice in the appropriate boat for the upcoming regatta. With such a large fleet, Navy hosts more than 15 regattas a year.

Heavyweight Crew

"Breaking the ice in January to fighting the sweat in June-it's all part of training a ton of manpower to drive a 300-pound shell faster than anybody else. All it takes is a boat sixty feet long, two feet wide, and an eighth of an inch thick with eight lean, powerful oarsmen each wielding a twelve-foot sweep, and a small coxswain full of dynamite in the back seat to run the show.

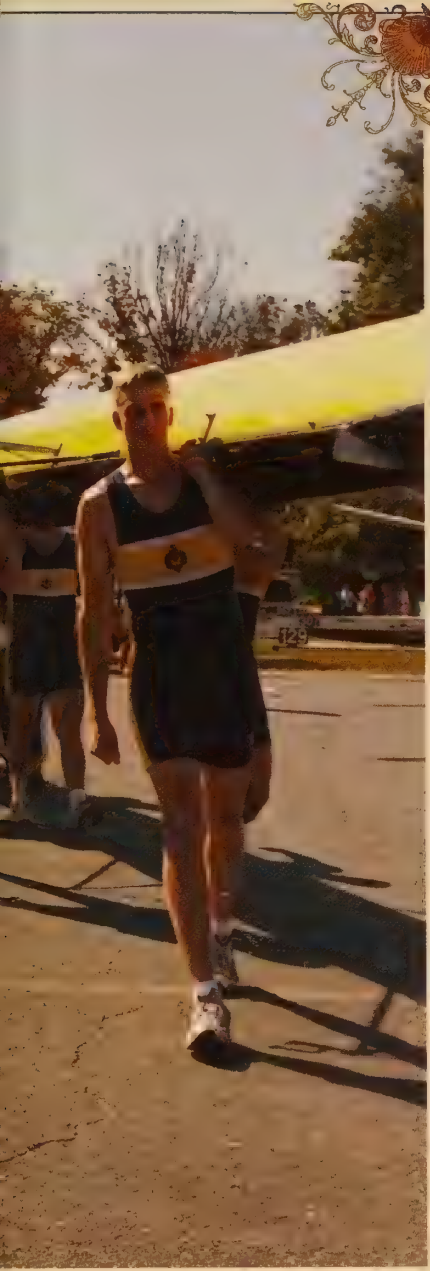
There are no stars in crew. No other sport demands such precision and teamwork, and every man in the boat knows that he can be no better than the man pulling behind and ahead of him. One careless move, one weak link, one fault in one man can determine the all-important difference of a deck length at the finish line. An oarsman must have the grace of a gymnast, the timing of a diver, the intestinal fortitude of a tackle, the concentration of a pitcher, and the endurance of a marathon runner, with enough left at the finish for a hundred yard dash. And every man in the boat must have a team spirit that no other sport can match. Literally hundreds of miles go under the sweeps before the blisters harden into callouses, before a crew of eight can swing as one man, before every eye can pick up the precise timing of the stroke, before wind is developed and muscles are wiry-hard for the three mile grind."

These words described rowing at the Naval Academy in the Lucky Bag of 1952, the year that Navy's legendary Great Eight claimed Olympic Gold for the United States. Although the boats and names have changed, everything else remains the same. Navy oarsmen still endure many and long hours of practice in the early morning, late afternoon, and anytime in between. We still test our bodies and our resolve daily in the pursuit of speed. We still strive to live up to the tradition forged for us by the crews of years past.

Encouraged by strong fall competition and indoor winter training, the 2002 Heavyweights attacked the spring with more speed and tenacity than in recent years. After sacrificing spring break to Lake Lanier, we set out to settle some old scores and bring upon the Ivy League Armageddon. A faster varsity team and a very successful plebe squad hold a promising future for the Heavyweight oarsmen as we continue to push ourselves to add to the proud tradition of Navy Crew.

From this day to the ending of the world,
But we in it shall be remember'd;
We few, we happy few, we band of brothers;
For he today that sheds his blood with me
Shall be my brother; be he ne'er so vile,
This day shall gentle his condition:
And gentlemen in England now a-bed
Shall think themselves accursed they were not here,
And hold their manhoods cheap whiles any speaks
That fought with us upon Saint Crispin's day.
-Henry V, Act IV, Scene III

Men's



Lightweight Crew

"Never Be Satisfied." This phrase embodies everything the Lightweight Crew team is about: 0500 wakeups, freezing mornings on the Severn, countless hours on the erg, and chasing a national championship.

The 2001-2002 year proved to be another turning point in Navy Lightweight Crew history. With a record number of seniors returning, its strongest freshmen class yet, and a new head coach, the team made huge strides towards a national championship season. In the fall the team showed the league and the country the kind of speed it was capable of producing. The varsity finished 2nd at the Head of the Charles, and the two novice boats took 1st and 2nd at the Belly of the Carnegie.

Throughout the winter the team put in long hours of hard work on the ergs, in the tank, in the weight room, and at home over Christmas break. And in the spring it paid off. After lots of great rowing on the water down in Oak Ridge, TN during spring break, the Lightweights never missed a beat heading into the spring racing season.

Navy opened its season by beating Princeton for the first time in 20 years. The team went on to sweep Georgetown, Rutgers, and Harvard, giving the varsity its first win over Harvard in almost three decades. The varsity team headed into the Eastern Sprints undefeated and ranked 2nd in the nation. Thanks to the leadership from the class of 2002 (including Guy Batchelder, Josh Bringhurst, Alex Campbell, Paul Coslick, Colin Dunlop, Paul Oyler, Jason Smith, Darren Szerdy, Ethan Taranta, Pat Anderson, and manager Renee McKee) and the addition of head coach Rob Friedrich, the Lightweights enjoyed one of their most successful seasons ever. The Navy Lightweights shocked the world in 2002 with a successful season: just the beginning of many to come.

The 2001-2002 season has been one of Navy Women's Crew most successful years. The team is led by Captain Meg Burns, First Classes Alexis Wright, Tanya Hayden, Monica Hurley, and Blythe Oraker. NWC has moved closer to our team goal of being the first women's team from the Academy to be invited to NCAAs than any other year.

Crew

We had a good fall season, doing well at the Head of the Charles and went into our winter training season with good racing experience. Spring Break training in Miami ended with our first varsity, (Tanya Hayden, Kelly Boyce, Danielle James, Stephanie Fick, Anne Gibbon, Betsy Stauffer, Kacie Inman, and Meg Burns) coming back for an 11 second improvement in their second race of the day to have a clear victory over UNC and Miami.

Our novice are running faster than any other year and look to be very successful at Eastern Sprints. The Varsity enjoyed the valueable experience of getting to race at the San Diego Crew Classic this Spring. We're going into Sprints ranked 11th in the EAWRC. Qualifying for the Grand Finals will qualify us to go on to NCAAs in Indianapolis, IN.

CLUB SPORTS

Men's Rugby

Founded in 1963, the Naval Academy Men's Rugby Club has grown over the years to become a collegiate powerhouse. The club boasts more than twenty All-Americans and currently has alumni playing for the national team developmental side. This year's team was lead by senior captains Rob Stimis and Nate Bastar.

During the fall season, the team captured the Potomac Rugby Union championship for the fourth time in the past five years. Outside of league play, the team traveled to Montreal on Labor Day Weekend and walked away as the tournament champions, giving the University of Western Ontario its first loss in three years. This trip allowed the team to prove their dominance in North American rugby. As a result of an undefeated conference season, Navy was seeded first in the spring regional tournament.

During the Mid-Atlantic Rugby Union championships, the Navy team hosted Kutztown in the quarterfinals before heading to Princeton on championship weekend. The team proceeded to defeat Princeton and archrival Penn State, thus earning Navy the second seed in the nation. Before the Sweet 16, Navy traveled to Washington, D.C., to participate in the 36th Annual Cherry Blossom Tournament. The team easily defeated its first three opponents to set up a match against Midwest champion Ohio State. After a very physical game, the Navy defense proved too much for the Buckeyes, and Navy won the game 10 - 0 to set up a championship game against Army. When the whistle blew to end the championship game, Navy again walked off the field a winner, earning them an N-star.

Navy had a week off before traveling to Penn State for their pool play in the Sweet 16, in which they were pitted against a strong Indiana University of Pennsylvania team. During a rainy game in which many of Navy's forwards were sidelined due to injury, the team was unable to get its offense rolling and suffered its first loss of the season, thus ending their hopes at a national championship. The members of the 2001-2002 men's rugby club dedicated themselves to their sport, the Academy, and their teammates. This dedication was the main cause for the tremendous accomplishments throughout the year.

Women's Rugby

The Navy Women's Rugby team had an outstanding season this year. The team was lead by their Captain Meagan Varley and head coach Loc Vetter. Their exciting schedule included placing first at the Marti Gras Tournament in New Orleans, Sweet 16's in Orlando, Florida, and the National Women's Rugby Final Four in Minnesota. These amazing accomplishments were only achieved after hours of uphill sprints, stretching circles, rhino scrumming, "my ball" catching drills, and tackling dumbies. There was never a dull moment when you had a team comprised of 30 ladies ready and willing to bruise, cleat, stomp, and tackle all who step in their way.

"Here's to you.
Here's to me.
Best friends we'll forever be.
But, if we ever disagree,
Forget' you .....
Here's to me."

Softball

The Navy Women's Softball team returned this spring and played a difficult season against such teams as University of Richmond, Columbia Union College, and Unversity of Maryland. The team started off 4-0 for the season, beating James Madison University in a double header. The leadership and expertise of the first class team members led to the progress of the younger players who will fill their shoes in the seasons to come.

Women's Tennis

2001-2002 proved to be a great season for Navy Women's Tennis. We had a winning season although the weather was not always in our favor! Coach Christine Copper and new Officer Representative Capt. Pencola, USMC, helped to make the season a success. Captains Steph Muscovac and Katie Baehr led the team in the fall and Katie Baehr and Katie Dow guided them in the spring. Sarah Haengel and Ali Sposato were vital as the one and two seeds with Cristiana Crawford, Brenna Montgomery, Baehr, and Dow rounding out the squad. Also returning was sophomore Natalie Frantz and new additions to the team were sophomore Ashley Greene and freshmen Ava Benitez and Lindsey Compton. Next year will be even stronger with the entire spring team returning.

Cycling

The Naval Academy Cycling team represented the school well on a regional and national level competing against teams from UVA, Virginia Tech, Appalachian State, WVU, JHU and UMD. The fall found the team competing in the grueling ACC mountain bike season. The mountains of Morgantown West Virginia, Blacksburg VA and Boone NC provided the backdrop for a season of intense racing. The season ended with a success as the team qualified for Nationals sending1/C Chris Newport to compete with the Men's Div I A field and 2/C Aaron Schaub to compete in the Men's Div I B field. After a long winter of training in the cold weather the team emerged from 7th wing ready to take on the conference in the spring road bike season. The conference provided the toughest competition in the history of the team. Bolstered by the strongest group of freshmen in recent memory the team fought well through the long spring schedule which saw 60+ mile road races in which speeds routinely breeched the 50 mile per hour mark and intense campus criteriums with riders flying around tight, short courses. The team emerged from the season intact in 4th place overall and qualifying 3 of its members for Nationals in Burlington, Vermont. The team will be sad to lose seniors Chris Newport (Team Captain), Sarah Rice, Megan Smith, Sean Holman, George Messner and George Schmuke.

Triathlon

Navy won their first Mid-Atlantic Regional Collegiate Triathlon Championship at Smith Mountain Lake near Roanoke, Virginia on Saturday 22 September, 2001. The Olympic distance triathlon consisted of a 1.5k swim, 40k bike, and a 10k run. The Men's team won 1st overall, decisively beating second place North Carolina and third place Florida. The Women's team was edged out by Virginia but finished 2nd overall in the collegiate division. some of the other participating schools were: Army, Univ. of Virginia, Virginia. Tech, Univ. of Maryland, James Madison Univ., Penn State, Appalachian State, and NC State.

In the Collegiate Men's Division, Midn 2/c Timothy O'Donnell placed 2nd, 1/c Pete Penzell placed 3rd, 2/c Bryan Scullin placed 6th, with 2/c Brad Schoultz and 2/c Chris Hobert placing among the top 15. In the Collegiate Women's Division, Midn 3/c Melanie Cooper placed 6th, 3/c Jessica Mohammed finished in 7th place and 2/c Caitlin Decker won 9th place.

Hockey

Navy's 'A' hockey team completed its most successful season in the program's long history by winning 23 games while losing only eight and tying one. In the tough Eastern Collegiate Hockey Association (ECHA), the Midshipmen finished with an impressive 15-5-1 mark. Following the regular season, Navy defeated Villanova and Drexel in the ECHA playoffs before dropping a heartbreaker to Rhode Island in the championship game played at Dahlgren Hall. The highlight of the 2001-2002 season was Navy's triumph in the annual Crabpot Tournament. The Mids defeated West Virginia and Lehigh to capture the coveted trophy - the 8th time Navy had won the Crabpot in the prestigious tournament's 25-year history.

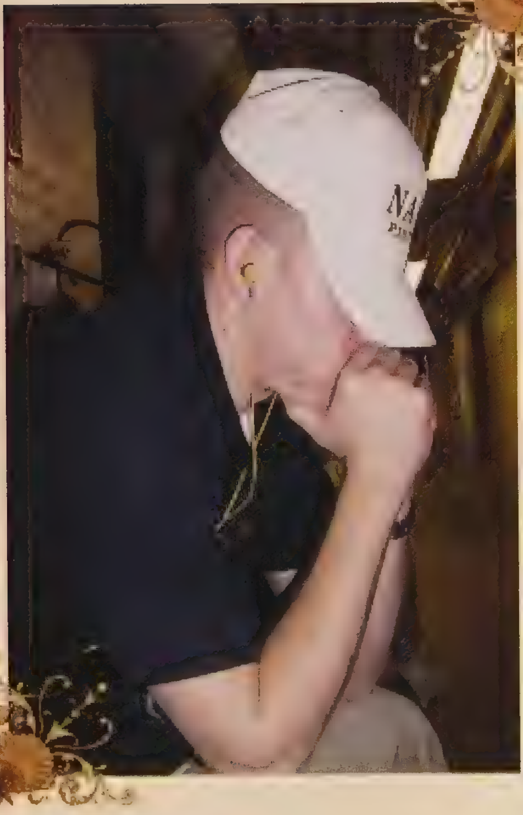
Senior Matt Lewis received the Chief Darren Campbell Leadership Award in recognition of his outstanding job as team captain. Sophomore J.D. Walker, an All-American who was the nation's leading scorer, was named the Mids' Most Valuable Player. Senior Ricky Hayes and sophomore Kacey Kemmerer earned honorable mention All-American honors. Senior Mike Bower, and juniors Lukin Lain and Todd Lohstreter, were named Academic All-Americans. Junior defenseman Luke Saladyga and sophomore Scott Hopkins were named as the team's most improved players. Other post-season honors went to junior Jon Martha (hardest worker), Hayes (best sportsmanship), and Kemmerer (rookie of the year). Besides Lewis, Hayes, and Bower, other seniors who were instrumental in the Mids' great success were forwards Ashley Church and Chris Douglas, goaltender Drew Myers, and defenseman Tim O'Connell.

NAVY HOCKEY

Pistol

The pistol team had a winning season with several notable wins. The team consisting of 1/C Cregge, 1/C Foradori, 2/C Diefenderfer, and 3/C Krumbein scored a new National and Range record in Februrary 2002 shooting 2271/2400 on Air Pistols. 3/C Ryan Blacklock won Individual Aggregate, Standard, and Air events in the Grand Aggregate National Championship. At this same competition, 1/C Pete Foradori placed second, and 1/C Nick Rotunda placed third in Individual Men's Aggregate. Also, 2/C Diefenderfer placed second in Free Individual, and 1/C Watson placed third in the same event. Nick Rotunda placed Third in the Open Air Individual and 1/C Foradori placed third in Standard Individual.

Overall, the entire team had a great season and will continue to excel in upcoming years.



Men's Volleyball

Another roller coaster season for Navy Volleyball has come to an end. Battling with some top East Coast rivals, Navy managed to stay in the mix with several keys players, consisting of Captain Rob Niemeyer, Nick Veasey, and David Crescitelli. Navy competed extremely well with some of the top schools in the Nation demonstrating that they hard the skills and the team unity. Navy finished the season with the National Championships in Dallas, "Cowboy Up" Texas. Failing to come through at key points in the matches caused Navy Volleyball to finish lower than they intended. Overall, this proved to be a rebuilding year for the Mids and the team will miss the seniors of '02.

Men's Club Soccer

Men's Club Soccer played hard games this season against the competition. As the year progressed, the senior leadership spread their experience and insight to the rest of the team. The entire team grew and learned to play togetheer to beat their opponents with speed, efficiency, and skill. Even though the seniors are leaving the team, the future looks bright for the Navy Men's Club Soccer team as they face new challenges and opponents in the upcoming seasons.

Men's Club Lacrosse

The Men's Club Lacrosse Team had a great year finishing up 12-3 for the season. The fall season was highlighted with a second place finish at the University of Maryland's Fall Brawl. In the spring they capped off the season with a 5-1 record in their division and made it to the second round of NCLL playoffs. The Club team's spring season was also highlighted with a second place finish at University of Maryland's Beltway Bash and a third place finish at the Pittsburgh Lacrosse Shootout. On the road the team was very successful with wins at Penn State, Rutgers, and Hofstra. The Club Team ended their season with a tough game and loss to the Univeristy of Delaware in the playoffs.

The team was lead by strong defense featuring 1/C Matt Oar, 2/C Watts, 3/C Garvey and goalie Joey Alferi. The intensity was held up by longsticks 1/C Phil Glenn, 2/C Joey Rossiter, 3/C Justin Alfano, 4/C Sean O'Neill and 4/C Greg Wood. The offense poured it on with 1/C Sean Mulcahy, 1/C Matt Wright, 2/C Dave Riley at midfield and 1/C Dustin Martello, 1/C Rich Cannici, and 2/C Jay Agostinelli.

Women's Lacrosse

The Women's Lacrosse team had a very successful year this year, finishing number three in the nation among 160 women's club teams. The team was led by firsties Stacy Guth, Amy Mizell, Amanda James, Sarah Campbell, Brigitte Aungier, and Robin Boniface. The team kicked off the season by beating Delaware who would be seen again at Nationals in St. Louis. Continuing with an undefeated record, the women traveled up and down the East Coast from New York to North Carolina. Playing almost every weekend and in several tournaments, the women's lacrosse team did a fine job of playing with finess and skill. Two heartbreaking losses to Army and Air Force pushed the women down going into Nationals, but they came out third, completing a very successful season.

Powerlifting

This year the team started strong and finished stronger! At the first meet of the year in November, Navy had a commanding team victory at the Northeast regional meet in Williamsport, PA. Five individual champions and three others placed in the top three. Many lifters set personal records and built up steam for a great season. Captain Mishoe, the team's O-Rep, demonstrated the intensity that characterizes the powerlifting team as seen (where's the pic).

The classic Tri-service meet held in February at the Air Force Academy was a historic meet for the Navy club. It was the team's largest movement order ever. Navy utterly dominated the Army and Air Force teams. Navy had 10 weight class champions to Army and Air Force's combined 5.

To wrap the season up, the 23 lifters qualified for the national championship went to Texas for the year's final showdown. Navy placed 2nd in the nation behind LA Tech for the fourth consecutive year. Individually, 7 Navy lifters earned All American status. 1/c Julia Loya won her fourth straight national championship and set 2 American records making her the proud owner of 8 National powerlifting records.

The team had a great time and all lived up to the team motto, "Go Heavy or go home!"

Karate

The Naval Academy Karate Team's roots extend far deeper than its ten years under John Critzos's tutelage. The style taught historically began in Okinawa with Takahara and Kussanku, a Chinese envoy who brought weaponless fighting to Okinawa. There they taught "Karate" Sakugawa. The tradition then passed from Sakugawa to "Bushi" Matsumara, who earned the title of bushi, or warrior, for his role as the main imperial guard of the Okinawan king. Karate then grew exponentially as it was introduced by Matsumura's student, Anko Itosu, into the Okinawan public schools in 1902. This was done as a result of Itosu's belief that karate was of benefit to one's character, and what better place to begin than the public school system.

From there, it was handed to the next member in the karate lineage, Yabu Kentsu, known as "The Sergeant," for he was widely feared and respected for his truculent training practices in the Okinawan army. He believed that training must be with one's ultimate goal in mind, namely to disable the opponent. Only then was the true essence of karate understood. His pupil, Toyama Kanken, founded the Shudokan at Nihon University in Japan. And it was there that the Korean-born Ki Whang Kim trained, eventually becoming the first non-Japanese captain at the Japanese institution. His heritage adds a Korean mix to our karate-do style, which has already been influenced by the Japanese and Chinese tradition. Ki Whang Kim then transformed his knowledge to John Critzos II, who established the Naval Academy program and has continued to train and develop the Midshipman under his tutelage.

The United States Naval Academy Drum and Bugle Corps, founded in 1914, is the oldest active drum and bugle corps in the nation. The Corps traces its beginning back to a small group of musically-talented midshipmen attending a baseball game between the Naval Academy and its neighbor, St. John's College. From that small group the USNA Drum and Bugle Corps has grown to around 100 strong and currently performs more than 200 times a year. From formations to football games, the Navy Drum and Bugle Corps is a major factor of support for not only the Brigade of Midshipmen, but for Navy fans all over the world as well.

Each year the Drum and Bugle Corps competes in the Annual Interservice Drum and Bugle Corps Competition against the Air Force Academy's "The Flight of Sound" and the Coast Guard Academy's "The Windjammers." The United States Naval Academy Drum and Bugle Corps is currently the two-time Defending Champion of the competition.

The Pipes and Drums of the Brigade of Midshipmen is a Brigade support activity whose intent is to allow Midshipman to celebrate Scottish music and Highland dancing. In out band, we have bagpipers, tenor and snare drummers, a bass drummer, and Highland dancers. This year, the Pipes & Drums played at several functions on and off the yard. During the year, we played for several alumni groups with multiple performances at the Alumni House, the Class of 1974's tailgater, and for our sponsors, the Class of 61's, Fortieth Reunion. The Pipes & Drums have also shown their close relationship with the Marine Corps by having a piper perform at the Marine Corps Birthday Ball here on the yard and play for the retirement ceremonies of several Marine officers including Major General Klemp and our former Officer Representative, Lieutenant Colonel Janzen. The Pipes & Drums showed continued support for the Brigade by playing at sporting events such as Men and Women's Rugby games and provided halftime entertainment at the Patriot League Basketball championships. We also performed for the brigade at large at our annual St. Patty's Day performance in the Rotunda just before Spring Break and during Commissioning Week before Herndon.

OFFICERS CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

This year's Officers Christain Fellowship provided many an awesome opportunity to grow in the knowledge and love of the Lord, Jesus Christ. OCF has helped to prepare midshipman for living out the OCF purpose in the Fleet and the Fleet Marine Force. We concentrate on the fundamentals of prayer, knowing and living by the scriptures, fellowship, and leadership and outreach, equipping and encouraging them to minister effectively in the military society. Our desire is for the entire Brigade to come to the knowledge of Jesus Christ as their personal Lord and Savior. After the tragedies of September 11th we have devoted ourselves to prayer in accordance with God's promise in 2nd Chronicles 7:14 that say's "If my people, who are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, then

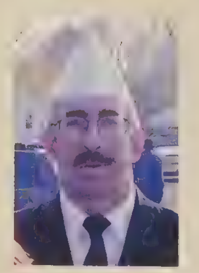
JEWISH MIDSHIPMEN CLUB

The USNA Jewish Midshipman Club's primary mission is to extend Judaism from the synagogue to everyday life for the Jewish Midshipman of the Brigade: its members come together for important holidays such as Passover, Yom Kippur, and Rosh Hashanh as well as every Friday night to worship and celebrate in the All-Faiths Chapel. JMC also meets on Tuesday nights at 1930 in Mitscher hall for pizza and religous discussion. JMC-sponsored events this year included halftime Kaddish, an integration program with Maryland University, and a spiritually uplifting trip to Spain., all supported by the Friends of the Jewish Chapel.



BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Staff:
Robert Hurst, Ben Carter

The Baptist Student Union is a christain ECA whose purpose is to glorify God through praise, Worship, Bible study, and fellowship. We seek individual and corporate growth in our relationship with God so that God and his goodness may shine through us throughout our careers and lives. Some of our activities include community service projects, retreats with other Baptist Student Ministries in Maryland and Delaware, and spring break mission trips. Each of these activates builds lifelong Christian friendships and enhances fellowship. Throughout all of this, we seek to help people enhance their spiritual lives as they seek to glorify God.

PROTESTANT CHOIR

Pres: Christoper Sillman

Protestant Chapel Choir is one of the most active musical groups on the Yard, contributing to the Protestant Sunday morning services each week. This year, the organization completed its two major annual movement orders, one to Virginia Beach over the Labor Day weekend and one to New York shortly after Christmas break, to add to the religious services at the eastern Shore Chapel and the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church. It was during these trips and through the course of the year that the choir developed more than a musical group, but also as a family, with each member looking out for one another as we continued week to week. The Protestant Chapel Choir also worked this year in close liaison with the Catholic Chapel Choir to organize what has been dubbed "Northern Ireland Sunday Service," where both choirs contribute to both the early Catholic Mass and the later protestant morning services. The year has been very productive and a ton to enjoy!

FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES

Pres: Matt Fisher
VP: Christopher Forman
VP: Heather Honnette
VP: Justin Mayer

Through prayer and fellowship the USNA Midshipmen Catholic Chapel Choir continues to support the Catholic congregation and community through liturgical music and song. Every year the choir takes a fall and semester retreat to prepare music for the year round liturgical season while singing at some of the most beautiful Catholic churches in the United States to include the National Shrine of Elizabeth Ann Seton in Emmitsburg, MD, Cathedral of St. Ignatius Loyola in New York City, and St. Louis Cathedral in New Orleans. LATTER DAY SAINTS

The Latter-day Saints Student Association is probably on of the most active Midshipman groups on the yard. LDSSA meets regularly each week on Tuesday nights from 1845 to 2000. During this time Midshipman as well as college-age civilians from around the area gather in Michelson Hall to enjoy an hour of bible study, prayer, and discussion of other relevant and stimulating topics, which is an excellent study break and the midweek spiritual lift. LDSSA participates in monthly activities that include dances hosted by surrounding colleges and groups, parties, service activates and church services. Services are held at the church across the river and past the Naval Station. A nearby member's house is usually the location for dinner after services. Some of the highlights this year included group trips to the well-known Washington DC Temple and the dinning out at the end of each year. The best part about LDSSA is the friendship shared with each other and with fine, upstanding, fun, single people in the DC area.

SEMPER FI

The Semper Fidelis Society is the US Naval Academy's extracurricular activity for Midshipman interested in service selecting Marine Corps. To achieve that end, the club offered the usual 0530 workouts and PFT, as well as many other activities for Midshipman to participate in. The club hosted training exercises, picnics, and tailgater's. Members were also present at the Marine Corps Birthday Ball and cake cutting ceremony. Occasionally, members got together to relax and watch a movie. Anyone can find an enjoyable activity in the Semper Fi Society. We strive to transition Midshipman to Marines.

NESA is a national organization of Eagle Scouts that is supported by the Boy Scouts of America. The mission of the USNA chapter is to conduct activities with Boy Scout troops and provide leadership training to members in accordance with the Boy Scout Oath and Law.

NESA seeks to promote scouting at the Naval Academy and promote the Navy and naval Acdemy to all Boy Scout troops. Programs to do this include the annual Scout Day at a Navy football game, an annual aquatics weekend for new local Eagle Scouts, an annual merit badge jamboree, tours of the yard, and camping with local troops. The contact with local Boy Scout troops aims to further Midshipman leadership in roles as teachers and mentors for scouts.

The Naval Academy Flying Squadron continues to be the premiere source of aviation exposure on the yard. The flying squadron is truly a midshipman run ECA and it shows in our year of accomplishment. Through the use of the two Cessna 172SP aircraft, the flying squadron has helped to foster the thrill of flying throughout the brigade. The squadron hosts fly-ins, ground school, and professional movement orders to educate midshipmen on many different aspects of aviation. The flying squadron covers everything from general, to historical, to military aviation and many things in between. The flying squadron is looking forward to increased support from the Naval Academy with the purchase of and additional two aircraft.
The flying team also represented the academy at both regional and national competition. The young team has only recently started competing on a national level. In the last year, the team improved their standing to one of the top nine teams in the country.
This year, the Naval Academy Flying Squadron has come a long way in a short time. The challenges undertaken by the squadron this year were done with the goal of bringing aviation to the brigade of midshipmen. Our continued effort, dedication, and support will only improve in the years to come.

RIGHT SPIRIT

Staff:
President: George Schmuke
Vice President: Justin Busby
Secretary: Jeffery Mund
Treasurer: Chris Cisek

The Right Spirit is the Navy's alcohol abuse prevention and deglamorization campaign. The Right Spirit is not prohibition. It requires only that members who choose to drink do so in a responsible manner. It emphasizes that it is okay not to drink, and requires those in positions of leadership to support members who choose not to drink and to guarantee respect for their choice.

Abuse Prevention is responsible use. It is a personal decision of the individual members as to whether or not to consume alcoholic beverages. Members who choose to use alcohol must do so lawfully and responsible. Responsible use is the application of self-imposed limitations of time, place, and quantity when consuming alcoholic beverages. Alcohol consumption is never an acceptable excuse for misconduct or poor judgment. Therefore, while it remains an individual choice as to whether or not to drink alcoholic beverages, members who choose to drink shall do so in an appropriate place, at an appropriate time, and in an appropriate quantity.

Deglamorization of alcohol is simply preventing alcohol from being a central focus. Traditional functions such as dining ins/outs, hail and farewells, initiations, wetting downs, and graduations should serve to celebrate the moment rather than serve as an excuse to drink irresponsibly. Furthermore, those who choose not to drink should be supported in their decision.

YP SQUADRON

The Yard Patrol Power Squadron is composed of a gung-ho group of midshipmen in the Brigade that make the utmost of the naval Academy's fleet of Yard Patrol Craft (YP's) to provide them with hands-on training in seamanship, navigation, naval tactics, communications, naval phraseology and standard procedures. The YP Power Squadron is a professional (support) ECA. and currently conducts local operations out in the Severn River and bay every Tuesday and Thursday. Additionally, the Power Squadron undertakes three movement orders per semester which are mandatory for Power Squadron members, but are also open to the brigade at large. Plebes are highly encourages to either join the Squadron or at least become a rider for a movement order, so that they may get a first taste of shipboard life before they embark on LANTPATRAMID during 3/C summer. The Power Squadron teaches seamanship, navigation, communications, and other professional skills, but more importantly, Midshipmen in the Squadron learn confidence, presence, and assertiveness in real-life ship handling situations. Power Squadron builds leadership skills. Although Power Squadron is often associated with Surface Warfare Officers, it provides Midshipmen an environment to build leadership, teamwork, and military organization skills, which is ideal for any warfare community. Most Midshipmen in the Squadron are working on attaining the qualification of YPCO.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

The Model United Nations club at the Naval Academy educates midshipmen on foreign policy issues by putting the midshipmen in a debate environment with other college students from around the world. The club travels to different cities in the U.S. and Canada to participate in conventions with other schools. These conventions provide a fun and challenging atmosphere that puts the midshipmen in the place a foreign service dignitary from another country. They then debate their countries needs and political policies from the perspective of a citizen of the said country. The Model United Nation is a fun and entertaining way to learn about foreign policy and international relations.

DEBATE

Navy Debate is the United States Naval Academy's policy debate team. A Brigade Supporting Activity and Academic Extra Curricular Activity, midshipmen have been debating competitively on the national circuit for over 45 years. Navy is competitive in all levels of debate and travels to over 15 tournaments a year, as well as hosting a tournament in Annapolis. Debate offers midshipman the opportunity to get off the yard and compete intellectually against fellow undergraduates from schools across the nation.

Staff:
President: Tim Johnson
Vice President: Von Fernandes
Treasurer: Alisha Hamiltan

NAFAC

Delegates from over 100 universities across the nation and 24 foreign countries gathered in Annapolis in mid-April for the 41st annual Naval Academy Foreign Affairs Conference and participated in panel discussions relation to the changing roles of militaries in the 21st century.

NAFAC is the largest academic activity at USNA with nearly 200 Midshipmen participating each year. Midshipmen serve in all capacities ranging from round table moderators to logistical support. Unlike most other activities on the yard, NAFAC is planned and executed entirely by Midshipmen.

Staff: J.E.B. Bolen, David Zane, Brian Ray, Emelia Spencer

DOLPHIN

The mission of the Dolphin Club is to increase the interest in submarines and the availability of submarine information to the Brigade of Midshipmen. This task is accomplished by acting as a liaison between Midshipmen and submarine officers and enlisted assigned to the Academy. They have been responsible for welcoming the crews of sub, whether commissioned or still being built, hosting social hours at the O-club, and attending Navy Submarine League Luncheons. Midshipmen also experienced true naval submarine heritage first-hand with a lecture series that has been set up in cooperation with the sub practicum class where both active and retired submarines come to share their sea stories. In short, they show the Brigade that submariners can have fun too.

Staff: Kevin Fornal, Jason Cipriano, Jarrod Trant

Ski

The Naval Academy Ski club is an organization that existed in order to offer Midshipmen intersted in skiing and snow boarding an ability to easily travel to near by parks and resorts with other people with common interests. The club offered the ability for anyone who traveled, a discounted way to carry out their snow addiction. Trips also included having fun with the locals after the slopes closed.

Staff:
President: Troy Dickey
Vice President: Matt Davin
Treasurer: Eileen Crawford
Operations: Wes Blackwell

TRAP & SKEET

The Naval Academy Trap and Skeet club offered midshipmen who enjoyed a hobby of shooting or sharpening their shooting skills an ability to exercise their right to carry firearms. Though the club has had rocky times, it is strong today and has a future for those who have interest in recreational shooting.

TECHNICAL PRODUCTION CREW

The Technical Production Crew is an unseen necessity for any and all semi-morale boosting events. Tek Cru provides electricity, lights, and sound to plays, musicals, dances, comedy shows, pep rallies, and the such. A simple ECA of People, Fun, and Magic.

Staff:
President: Jason Killings
Vice President: Kenneth Greenfield
Treasurer: Drew Straessle

AMATURE RADIO

The USNA Amateur Radio Club was founded in 1928 and is an FCC-licensed organization that promotes amateur radio communication. In 1930, the club was given the call sign W3ADO, and it still uses it today.

Amateur radio has always promoted community service: the Amateur Radio Club often offers it services to local volunteer organizations, other amateur radio clubs, and even other extracurricular activities. The club provides communication for activities ranging from the annual Army/Navy football run to emergency situations such as Hurricane Floyd in 1999 and the snowstorm of January 2000. The club operates on HF, VHF, and UHF frequency bands from its spaces in the 7th wing mezzaine and uses the towers on the roof of Bancroft Hall and by Santee Basin.

Staff:
President: David Meissner
Vice President: Dan Trenbula
Treasurer: Reed Foster

ASTRONOMY

The Astronomy Club brings outer space to the Naval Academy. Weekly observing sessions let midshipmen observe stars and planets with the amazing Clark telescope, whose lens dates from the founding dates of the Academy itself. Trips to the National Air and Space Museum and the US naval Observatory proved to be enlightening and enjoyable. Community outreach programs like Astrokids brought together midshipmen and the children of the Naval Academy family to entice the minds of budding young astronomers. Little is as inspiring as seeing the rings of Saturn or the moons of Jupiter, but the Astronomy Club allows mids to do this and much more.

KOREAN AMERICAN STUDIES

Currently, our organization is composed of about 30 active members, one officer representative and one exchange naval officer from the R.O.K. (Republic of Korea) Navy. As an ECA, we realized the importance of keeping and embracing the Korean culture. In the last few years, we've worked with the KSA from University of Maryland College Park. We've have a close relationship with them from participating in activities together and passing about cultural events that are happening around the area. Also every exchange program with the R.O.K. Naval Academy. As a relatively young ECA, we plan to provide Midshipmen the opportunity to share their exposure to the Korean Culture many years in the future.

Staff: Dong Park, Chul Choi, Brian Song, Victor Lee

TRIDENT BRASS

The Trident Brass is the Midshipmen jazz band. We play swing and big band music at various functions in support of the Brigade. We have played several swing dances this year as well as our usual I-Ball, Navy-St. John's Croquet match and Herdon concerts.

Staff:
President: David Masterson
Vice President: Hugh Potts

GERMAN

It's always Okterberfest when the German Club gets together, and I mean more than just good beer and great food. From weekly meeting to great MO's there's never a dull moment. Early this year the Club sponsored an exchange with the German Naval Academy. We took the German Mids on a whirlwind tour of the East Coast and showing them everything from Norfolk to New York. Mo's to the German Embassy, and other German related events in the area help to support the mission of our club which is to enhance to awareness of the German language and culture through first hand interaction with German speaking people both socially and professionally.

IEEE

The USNA chapter of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers is part of the largest and most influential professional organization in the world. Electrical engineering is a brad field that has an important role in nearly all developing technologies and sciences. Our local chapter supports the study of electrical engineering by hosting interesting speakers and events meant to highlighting cutting edge work in the field and increase awareness of the profession. Once a month, a leading engineer is brought in to speak with the chapter about interesting topics like satellite phones and modern radar systems. We also organize several trips for midshipmen who would like to visit companies working on challenging engineering projects.

AIAA

The AIAA is an ECA for those interested in flight on many different levels. From aerospace engineers to those with just a desire to learn more about flight, AIAA offers guest speakers in topics related to aviation. AIAA sponsors field trips to such places as the Goddard Space Flight Center and the Air and Space Museum. The AIAA is proud to support the Design, Build, Fly Team as they compete against other schools around the nation to construct, from scratch, the best remote-controlled battery operated airplane.

BLACK ENGINEERS

The mission of the National Society of Black Engineers is to increase the number of culturally responsible Black engineers who excel academically, succeed professionally and positively impact the community.

The USNA chapter of NSBE worked extremely hard during the 2001-2002 academic year to fulfill the NSBE mission. The chapter did this through numerous activities that focused on the development of men and women majoring in the fields of science and engineering. The chapter doubled its membership this year and had many workshops that worked to develop skills in academics, finance, and community involvement. As always the chapter was well respected throughout the country and was challenging for National Chapter of the year.

Meg,

Of all your accomplishments we are most grateful for the fine and good person you have always been. We take pride in the quality of your character, and for that we thank you. Congratulations on completing another part of the journey and we wish you many adventures to come. Safekeeping Doodle.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Friends, The Class of '02 and your Families,
Best wishes for blue sky and calm water. Godspeed.

Love,
Mike and Shas Burns

Kati,

When we bought you that first sailor suit 20 years ago, we had no idea all the places you would go and the things you would do. We are indescribably proud. Remember how much we love you and that you can always come home. (It might just take a little longer than before.)
Love, Mom, Dad, and Chris

Ensign Matt Fisher

Congratulations!
We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished. God has blessed you with wonderful gifts -- great health, wisdom beyond your years and a servant's heart. You have brought more joy into our lives than we could have ever imagined. You have set a wonderful example by your strength of character, your faith in God, and your hardwork. May God continue to bless all that you do as you reach for the sky! Our hearts and prayers will always be with you.

All our love,
Mom and Dad

Not only a brother, but also a friend -- Who could ask for more?!

Congratulations,
I love you,

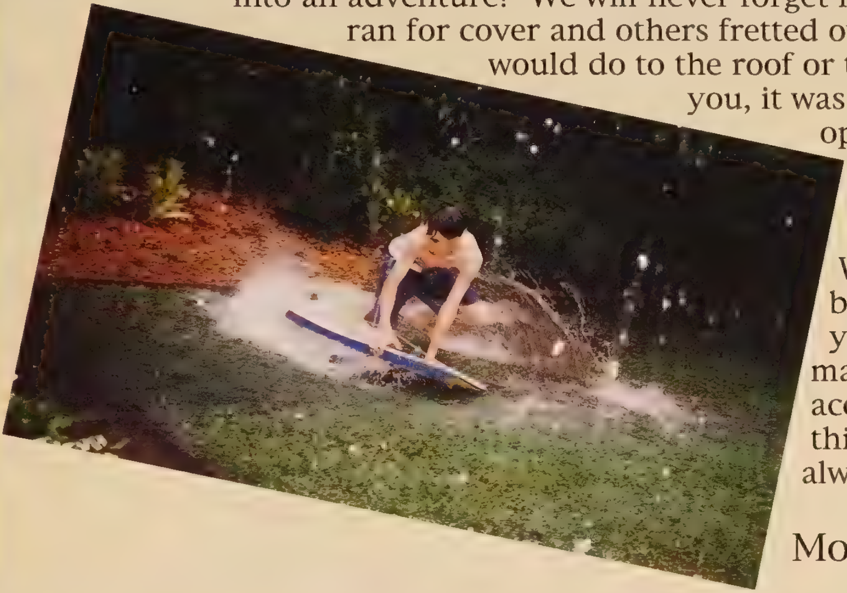
Michael,

Do you remember the day that you turned a downpour into an adventure? We will never forget it! Many people ran for cover and others fretted over what it would do to the roof or the garden. For you, it was just another opportunity for fun. Keep looking for the fun in life. What a joy it has been to watch you grow into a man and accomplish great things! We will always love you.



Mom and Dad

Congratulations Ensign Chris L Carrizales! I never knew what an influence putting you in a uniform at such a young age would do to you. You make a uniform look good!

We are all so proud of you. May you always have "fair winds and following seas."

Love you always,

To Matthew:

At the time of high school graduation you gave me a poem about leaving home, growing your wings and wanting to fly. And now look at you - You really will be flying! Just remember how proud we are of all that you accomplished in academics and football and how you always kept your ultimate dream as top priority in your life. We will always be here for you when you can return home and our love goes with you every step of your journey. Also remember that there is an angel co-pilot with you always in your plane and he is smiling with pride. Love you, Mom, Andy, Steve and all the Obers

Daniel,
You have always been our knight in shining armor.

We love you and are so very proud of you.

Mom, Dad, Dana, and Derek

Matt,

Your journey from Naps to graduation from the Academy may have seemeed long with many obstacles to overcome, but with your hard work, commitment and desire to persevere, your accomplishments are tremendously great. Now, as your new journey begins as a Navy pilot, the same hard work, commitment and perseverence will take you to the skies. Hope you find happiness in all that you do. we are very proud of you and will always love you!

God Be With You in the Journey Ahead!

Phillip Jason,

These four years have been an emotionally mixed ride. I-day was filled with tears, fears, and hope. PPW brought a mixture of happiness, relief and sadness. You were actually surviving plebe summer but once again I had to leave you with tears in our eyes. Herndon was fun for all. Ring dance meant the end was drawing near. FPW was filled with pride and amazement at how you managed to keep your sanity with Academy life. There were also the times you felt like you just couldn't face another day there. The times you were so homesick. You had plenty of growing up to do on your own and you did it. I am so proud of how you have handled yourself through so many difficult times. Commencement now brings tears again but this time it's for joy, relief and the promise of a successful future. I know you will accomplish all that you dream of because you've learned that sometimes what we want may not always come easily. May God bless you and be with you always.

Love, Mom

CONGRATULATIONS KURT!

Kurt,

You left home four years ago on an exciting adventure and now you're ready to pursue your ultimate dream! There are no words to express the pride and love we have for you. We admire your independence and your determination. You never cease to amaze us! We know you'll make your country proud.

We love you,

Congratulations and Godspeed, Ensigns
Adam Green, Robert Holt, Joseph Hooper, Jess Hottenstein

They came separately to the Academy to shape their future and define their goals.
These four amigos from Texas, New York, and Maryland met during Plebe year.

They found in each other that bond of friendship that alludes many. They helped nurture each other during four challenging years. They will always remain close though miles will come between them.

James Anthony Diaz-Barriga

Dear James:
At the early age of five you said to me "I am going to be the best of one of your children" and I told you: to do that you will have to fit some big shoes. Now seventeen years later you are a graduate of the United States Naval Academy. I am very proud of you and so is the rest of the family. Because of your good character and dedication we wish you the best in life.
Love,
Your Family

Trey,

as a little boy you wanted to do BIG THINGS someday. As a MIDN, you have! USNA, sailing, Hawaii, Taiwan, learning to study, making friends, and making friends, and making choices that count.

LIFE GOES ON.
GO WITH IT!

-Us Oats

~Every parent has hopes, dreams, maybe even their own set of plans for their children's futures. For us, honesty, loyalty, confidence, and strength are all part of who we hoped you would be. We could go on, but the bottome line? You have surpassed our dreams for you. You have choices in your life; that is what we want for you, your brother, and sisters. You left home a daughter to be proud of and now... there is not a word that can express the pride and amazement we feel.

~We are proud to be your parents.~

Katerina Manulani Takahashi Iannios:
Don't ever forget where you've come from or the family that will forever be there for you.

So..., was this picture prophetic?? There is so much to say but most of it would be redundant. Nate, you keep showing all of us that your potential abilities are limitless. Most importantly you continue to prove that to the one person to whom it is most important, yourself. Keep believing in yourself as you always have and we will keep being proud of you as we have always been.
With all our love,
Your Family

Your Strength of Character will take you far in life. But your faith in Jesus Christ will carry you into His destiny and to eternity.

Love and Prayers always,

Lucky Bag
USNA

The "Bag" in Annapolis, Maryland was established in 1894 by Midshipmen. To satisfy their need for an old world annual to replace the existing catalog, they found Midshipman Fullinwider, an editor who's style and expertise remain the inspiration for our books today.

Each of our books is handcrafted with the finest materials and passionate care. Stop by our office for some friendly conversation and a 2002 Lucky Bag. We'll save one for you.

MY FINAL WORDS

Stacy...
Thank you for sticking with me this past year. I always thought of you as my council when tough decisions had to be made. I remember realizing on our trip to Dallas for Bennett's book that you and I would be the only one's the 2002 book would really fall on. Most of all, thanks for being my friend. I've always been honored. Maybe we'll go to the new Newseum.

Sam...
You've always been the one I can depend on. ALWAYS! The fact that we have been roomates 3 of the 4 years here at USNA might have something to do with you always being such a loyal friend as well as member of my "executive" staff. It's been fun. Your help this summer capped it off. Thanks for being one of my best friends here! I can't express to you in words how much I appreciate and value your friendship.

Jim & Patty (Harley & Sophie)...
Thanks for being my "dad" here in Maryland. You and Patty have truly gone out of your way to open your hearts and your home to me these past two years. You both have become best friends to me. I always looked forward to our 9-hole golf games and still look forward to the P-Cola visit. Bring Sophie. I will miss you both, but I will see you soon!

Julia...
God help you on next year's book... just kidding. One of the main reasons why I asked you to be editor next year is because of your enthusiasm and creativity. You already know more than I did when I started as editor. You will do fine. (You can always call if you need help). Thanks for coming on board this year. You have a great staff full of knowlege. Utilize them! Especially Collier, Coop and Scot!

Coop...
I know you are disappointed by the way things worked out. But know that things always work out for the better. You have always been, and will continue to be and intricate part of the Lucky Bag. You really are one of the best photographers this book has ever had. This book's pictures prove that. Just let me know if Julia gives you a hard time ;) Thanks for also being a friend to Sam and I. Maybe we'll all go up to NYC again soon. I hope we continue to keep in touch after this year. See you in P-Cola.

CCC...
Thanks for being a good friend. Your ideas and brilliance has always amazed me. Keep it up. You ARE the DVD. Train Pop well! Do you realize that you have had one of the greatest responsibilities on the staff since you were a plebe? Keep it real in H-Town. Take care of Jim and Patty. Make sure Coop doesn't get into too much trouble.

Scot...
Where did you come from? I always thought you were just some guy Coop brought on as one of his minions. Who knew you were probably the most valuable asset to the book. I am glad to have spent the time I did with you. (Este thinks you're a nice guy too). When you get back from USAFA, I hope you return to LB.

Adam...
We never went out for that drink. Thanks for diving head first into your section. In the time I spent helping you, you really became a friend. I hope we keep in touch. If you ever need anything, give me a call.

Chris...
You'll do great as a photo editor. You're organizational skills and the way you helped Stacy this year prove that. Work with Coop. He will make your job easier. Thanks for your help with the Sports section. I know your plate was always full, but I appreciate the time you made for the book.

Danny...
You really were a big help. I know you think you weren't, but you were always someone I could call on for help at the last minute. Thanks for always being dependable and being there for me. Good luck getting through this place. I know you can!

Chris Douglas (aka Chief)...
FOOD! Thanks for being my friend. I'm glad we got to know each other. I don't even remember how it was we got to know each other 4 years ago. Probably an econ class. I have always been honored to be your friend. Thanks for including me in your wedding. God Bless you and Rebekah.

Allison...
Thanks for your help this past summer. You enthusiasm always impressed me. You got the ball rolling on the history section. I'm glad you were willing to help me out this summer! See you in P-Cola. We'll go get an Irish Car Bomb.

Rob...
Thanks for being a good friend these past 4 years. I have always been able to ask you for the oddest favors at the oddest times. Helping out this summer was just another example of how you have always been there to help me. See you in P-Cola.

Robin...
You were definitely one of the most valuable workers this past summer. Your creativity really showed. Amada was right when she said you were the right girl for the job! Thanks for also being a good friend. You always made me laugh in Stats. Good luck with everything. See you in P-Cola.

John...
I have to admit, when the Sandman told me he assigned you to my staff I was skeptical. But, you really were a lot of help this summer. You picked up the ball on the history section and were willing to work overtime to finish it up. Thanks. I'm glad to have met you. See you in P-Cola.

Ashley...
Much like John, I didn't know what to expect. However, you have really become one of the hardest workers on the staff. I knew I could depend on you to finish a job. I'm glad to have met you. Good luck, I hope we meet again!

Mike...

I know it was only three weeks, but thanks for your help scanning. You were a part of the big picture. Thanks for being my friend. I know we couldn't be roommates plebe year, but we proved we can get along now. See you in P-Cola if you're still around when I get there. More importantly, see you in D.F.

Joe and Julie...
Thanks for your help with the yearbook. I'll never forget all you've done the past 4 years. Julie, thanks, especially, for being a Texan, and your help making this and the other past books possible. Maybe after the Navy I'll come back and work for Taylor. Oh, Joe, remember why Taylor is so great.... they're from Texas. Listen to Julie... she's a Texan. I know this school and Taylor have many more years together.

CDR Sandala (The Sandman)...
Thanks for your help with this book. It was always an adventure working with you. I'm glad that you were very much a part of the everyday workings of this book. Hopefully you like it and get a better understanding for next year. GREEN LIGHT!

Laurie and Millie...
Thanks for your help and ADVICE! You both were always there make sure the book was always on the RIGHT PATH. Laurie, thanks for always helping me make right decisions, and helping me get things done. You've always been there with a smile to help me out.

My Familiy...
Thanks for putting up with the stress and the numerous hours I have spent working rather than going home on leave. You have always stood behind all my decisions, and were willing to get me out of tight situations with this book.

Melissa, Carlos, Este and Daniel...
Just like my family, you also were willing to put up with the stress that goes along with this book. Thanks for also helping me with my work and putting up with this book over the past 4 years.

MY FINAL WORDS...

It was fun being in charge of the yearbook with the largest budget in the nation... but I'm glad it's over.

Overview

The 2002 Lucky Bag is the 109th edition of this annual. It is the fifth edition to be produced completely digitally. It was made by members of the Brigade of Midshipmen, for Midshipmen. It was printed in Texas, by Texans, by the Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas. Our representatives were Julia Jordan and Joe Wenzl from Campus Creations of Baltimore, Maryland. Our production manager at Taylor was Tamy McConnell.

The Lucky Bag is 1008-pages, in two volumes, the largest Lucky Bag history, and presently the largest yearbook made by Taylor. It has a press run of 4500 copies. Each Lucky Bag was bundled with one DVD. All members of the class of 2002 were given a directory book containing formal pictures and contact information of all members in the class. Books are sold to the public for $70 and the DVD sold for $15.

Printing

The Lucky Bag was printed at 155 LPI on premium 80 lb. matte paper.

Typography

All headlines in the book were written in Apple Chancery Regular. All body copy and captions were printed using Times New Roman. In the Parent Ad section, various other fonts were used as necessary. In the Class History section, Lucida Handwriting was used for the body text.

Photography

Formal portraits were taken by Davor Studios of Bensalem, Pennsylvania. Our Davor representative was James Rainey. Davor supplied film and camera equipment. Primarily, Fujicolor Supera 100, 200, 400, 800, and 1600 speed film was used. The Lucky Bag maintained a cache of lenses and camera bodies to include Nikon N70's, N90's and Canon EOS Elan II's and I-V's. Our lenses included Nikkor 35-70mm, Nikkor 80-200mm, Sigma 14mm, Sigma 18-35mm, Sigma 70-210mm, Tamron 28-80mm, Tamron 70-300mm, and Canon lenses. All film was developed by Davor and scanned into 17 MB TIFF image files and placed on CD-ROM.

Computers

The Lucky bag office contains eight Apple Macintosch computers. Four are Power Macintosh G4 Dual 500 Mhz models with 256 MB of RAM, 40 GBs of hard drive space and a DVD-RAM drive. One is a Power Macitosch 750 Mhz model with 256 MB of RAM, 40 GBs of hard drive space and a CD-R drive. One is a Power Macintosch G4 running at 733 Mhz with 768 MB of RAM and two 60 GB hard drives. This computer also contains the Apple Superdrive , which is capable of recording DVD-Rs. These computers were connected to ViewSonic PT813 21" Monitors. Three computers utilized the Wacom Intous 6x8 drawing tablet. The backbone of the office is a Power Macintosh G4 Server running Appleshare IP v6.3. This computer has two 40 GB SCSI hard drives which contain all of the files and pictures used to create this book. Finally, the Lucky Bag office contains a Powerbook G3 computer for clerical work and presentations. This computer is hooked up to an InFocus LP400 LCD projector.

Work has been backed up on a Quantum DLT4000 DLT tape drive using Dantz's Retrospect.

Scanning of photos submitted by the Brigade was done on a variety of scanners. These included UMAX PowerLook II, PowerLook III and PowerLook 1100 models.

Software

All our Apple Macintosh computers run OS X. Raster images were edited using Adobe Photoshop 7.0 and many times image intensive and effect driven spreads were initially created in Photoshop. Composites from Photoshop were saved in Encapsulated Postscript format (EPS) with vector data retained. These EPS images were placed in Adobe PageMaker 7.0. Text and other elements were added as needed, and a postscript file was generated using a Taylor provided PPD. These postscripts files were then distilled into .pdf files using Adobe Acrobat Distiller 4.0 and shipped off to Taylor using FedEx.

Advertisements

Commercial advertisements were obtained through Titan Publishing of Severna Park, Maryland. Parent Ads were solicited by the Lucky Bag.
